This figure is 20 million dollars less than the appropriation for the present fiscal year. It is understood that the brunt of the reduction will be borne by the army and navy, although the air service is expected to receive generous allotments.

This budget figure if not exceeded by the congressional appropriation next year will make possible a federal tax reduction of at least $300,000,000.

HOARDING CHECKS BUSINESS IN INDIA

Washington, Aug. 10. — All phases of economic life in India are adversely affected by the "century old habit of hoarding," according to the department of commerce. Banking, agriculture, manufacturing, public finances and especially foreign trade are all handicapped by the lack of sufficient capital.

"While millions of rupees worth of gold and silver are literally stored in hiding places by the people," the department said, "industries remain almost at a standstill."

"This traditional habit of hoarding keeps the standard of living almost static in India, and at a very low level as compared with the western world and certain areas in the far east."

According to reports reaching the department, great efforts are being made to discourage hoarding and encourage the habit of banking and investment among the people. A number of co-operative societies, with this end in view, have been organized and some progress already has been made.

GIANTS BURIED ALIVE BENEATH TOKYO FORT

(By United Press)
Tokio, Aug. 10. — The gruesome myth of the "human pillar" has been verified by unearthing of skeletons in the grounds of the Imperial Palace in Tokio.

Workmen repairing the ancient citadel in the Nijubashi were horrified to uncover the skeletons of a number of giant men standing guard, 12 feet below the surface of the earth, to protect the fortification.

The skeletons were taken as verification of the tradition of the "human pillar," a superstition of ancient Nippon. It was a custom, according to mythology, to sacrifice human beings upon beginning erection of fortresses. Living bodies of the strongest men of the nation were buried in the belief their strength would be imparted to the building.

News of the discovery was kept secret by the government but leaked out when workmen who had found them repeated the tale. The skeletons were turned over to the Tokio Imperial University for examination and burial.

LEGION TO HEAR LONG SUPPRESSED VETERANS REPORT

MAJ. ARNOLD'S FINDINGS WILL BE GIVEN AT THE CON-VENTION

BUREAU

Thief River Falls, Aug. 10. — With a bitter fight in store on the election of a national executive committee, delegates to the 7th annual convention of the Minnesota department American Legion gathered here today.

F. D. McCarthy of St. Paul is now national executive committee man. The election of his successor will find Stafford King, former state adjutant and Commander Edwin Lindell pitted against each other with a possibility that Henry Young of Willmar also will be a candidate.

Sessions of the convention were unable to open until noon due to the late arrival of the Soo Line train from Minneapolis bearing 5th district delegates.

Construction of the Fort Snelling veterans' hospital for which plans have been under consideration some time will start early in the fall, Commander Lindell reported at the meeting of the executive committee Sunday morning. The commander read a letter from General Frank Hines, head of the veterans' bureau giving the information.

The executive committee meeting otherwise was a tame affair, routine business receiving attention without the usual display of divergent opinions.

St. Paul, Aug. 10. — The long suppressed Maj. Arnold report on the veterans bureau of the ninth district is expected to be made public at the department convention of the American Legion at Thief River Falls.

Although this report has been treated as confidential by Ramsey county Legionnaires, it is known that it recommended the resignation of C. E. Hibbard, district director of the bureau.

The Maj. Arnold report and investigation was made several months ago at the personal request of Gen. Frank T. Hines, director general of the bureau at Washington.

But few of its recommendations have been adopted by the bureau, according to unofficial advisers.

With many proposals and resolutions being drawn by members of the Ramsey county delegation to the convention, it is expected that the complete report will be aired on the convention floor. What the resolutions will be is not publicly known, but it is expected that the bureau will be criticized in its method of handling the disabled veterans of this district.

Delegates to the department convention today, Tuesday and Wednesday left Sunday at 8:30 p. m. from the Union depot on a special train of the Great Northern. More than 200 delegates, members of the Legion Auxiliary and prominent Legionnaires were on the train.

The drum and bugle corps of Post No. 8 lead the Ramsey county delegation.

TODAY BY HIS FOUR SONS

(By United Press)
Moohead, Aug. 10.—Burial plans—fitting for a father and not a wife slayer—are being prepared today by four sons of Martinus Grefsrud whose mangled and partly decomposed body was found at Hawley, near here, Sunday.

More than a score of searchers, including the four boys, scoured the woods for the past week in search of Grefsrud, after he had shot and killed Kjerstin Grefsrud, his wife.

Johanna, the crippled daughter, crawled several yards to the roadside and beat on a tin pan for two hours before attracting attention after the tragedy.

MAJ. ARNOLD'S FINDINGS WILL BE GIVEN AT THE CON-VENTION

BUREAU

Thief River Falls, Aug. 10.—With a bitter fight in store on the election of a national executive committeeman, delegates to the 7th annual convention of the Minnesota department American Legion gathered here today.

F. D. McCarthy of St. Paul is now national executive committeeman. The election of his successor will find Stafford King, former state adjutant and Commander Edwin Lindell pitted against each other with a possibility that Henry Young of Willmar also will be a candidate.

Sessions of the convention were unable to open until noon due to the late arrival of the Soo Line train from Minneapolis bearing 5th district delegates.

Construction of the Fort Snelling veterans' hospital for which plans have been under consideration some time will start early in the fall, Commander Lindell reported at the meeting of the executive committee Sunday morning. The commander read a letter from General Frank Hines, head of the veterans' bureau giving the information.

The executive committee meeting otherwise was a tame affair, routine business receiving attention without the usual display of divergent opinions.

St. Paul, Aug. 10.—The long suppressed Maj. Arnold report on the veterans bureau of the ninth district is expected to be made public at the department convention of the American Legion at Thief River Falls.

Although this report has been treated as confidential by Ramsey county Legionnaires, it is known that it recommended the resignation of C. E. Hibbard, district director of the bureau.

The Maj. Arnold report and investigation was made several months ago at the personal request of Gen. Frank T. Hines, director general of the bureau at Washington.

But few of its recommendations have been adopted by the bureau, according to unofficial advisers.

With many proposals and resolutions being drawn by members of the Ramsey county delegation to the convention, it is expected that the complete report will be aired on the convention floor. What the resolutions will be is not publicly known, but it is expected that the bureau will be criticized in its method of handling the disabled veterans of this district.

Delegates to the department convention today, Tuesday and Wednesday left Sunday at 8:30 p. m. from the Union depot on a special train of the Great Northern. More than 200 delegates, members of the Legion Auxiliary and prominent Legionnaires were on the train.

The drum and bugle corps of Post No. 8 lead the Ramsey county delegation.

5,000 DELEGATES IN SESSION TODAY

Thief River Falls, Aug. 10.—Forgetting the bitterness and strife that called them together eight years ago, more than 5,000 delegates of the 520 Minnesota posts of the American Legion met in annual convention here today.

In the struggle for existence many creatures are driven to live at immense heights. The climbers of Everest saw a herd of wild sheep sitting on a glacier surrounded by pinnacles of ice. DE MOLAY DANCE

Music is to be furnished by Breezy Point Collegian Aces

THIRD DANCE IN SERIES

General Public is Cordially Invited to be Present

Roosevelt Chapter, Order of De Molay, is preparing to give a dance at Grand View Lodge on Wednesday evening, August 19, the music to be furnished by the Breezy Point Collegian Aces.

This is the third dance in the series given by the local chapter this summer. The two preceding ones have been highly successful and the order has gained quite a reputation as entertainers therefrom. The dance on next Wednesday will be the last one of the season, and the general public is invited to be present.

Dances at the Grand View hotel have been most popular this summer, the pavilion being one of the cool air places in this locality where dancing could be enjoyed on warm evenings. Its easy access to the city and neighboring resorts has been a factor in drawing crowds.

The Breezy Point Orchestra is held in high favor wherever it has played for dances this season. The Collegian Aces are excellent musicians and furnish very lively music, only the most popular airs being used. To advertise this orchestra is to guarantee the success of dance at which the Aces play.

Dancers are urged to keep Wednesday evening, August 19, open for the De Molay dance, and are promised one of the most enjoyable events of its kind this season.

Asserts That Poverty Is Punished as Crime

It is a common cant phrase among the comfortable classes that poverty is not a crime. Like most cant phrases, it is a lie. Poverty is a crime, or the world would not punish it so severely. Any man who has been poor—I do not mean "hard up" or short of money, but actually poor, and born among the poor, as I was—has something of the resentment felt by a man who has been in prison. For he has suffered as much as any man who commits a serious crime against society. But with the difference that he does not know what offense he has committed. I received the first punishment early in life, and it was some time before I could discover that my offense was poverty and humble birth. There is no relief for that suffering. So long as boys born among the poor dare to have brains and fine feelings and a desire to escape from mean streets, so long they shall be made to pay the price of their daring.—Thomas Burke, in Hearst's International-Cosmopolitan.

Application for Patent

A first government fee of $20 has to be paid on the filing of an application for a United States patent as a part of the application, and if the application is allowed a final government fee of $20 has to be paid in order to secure the grant of a patent. No further fees are required, and the patent runs its term of 17 years without anything more being required of the patentees. In most foreign countries, however, in addition to the government fees which by law have to be paid with the application, and in order to secure the grant of the patent, renewal fees or annuities have to be paid regularly, and the laws require the invention that is covered by the patent to be actually worked, as by being manufactured, sold, etc., in the country of the patent.

A shop girl who has never had a good time in her young life, is Virginia Valli's latest role. The popular Universal star, heads a well known cast of favorites with Norman Kerry in this production, "The Price of Pleasure," a Universal-Jewel, which has its first local showing at the Lyceum Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

"The Price of Pleasure" was written by Elizabeth Holding and Marion Orth, who are among the most famous of present day writers for screen production. Universal bought the story because of its particular fitness for Miss Valli and Kerry, and is said to have exercised special care in the selection of the supporting cast.

May Have Come Upon Lost Mormon Trails

Curious old rock trails recently discovered have caused the California State Historical society to launch an extended research into the routes of early day highways in the belief that the evidences found are those of the lost Mormon trails which more than a half century ago connected Utah with the Pacific southwest, according to the New York World.

More than 60 years ago San Bernardino, 22 miles south of Lake Arrowhead, was a Mormon village, planned after Salt Lake City, and to the southwest ox-cart caravans creaked their picturesque way along the monotonous journey.

What is now known as Lake Arrowhead was at that time a rugged, mountainous section with rushing streams. The lost trails are believed to have traversed this section. With the coming of settlers, the mountain streams were stemmed and Little Bear lake came into existence. Later a huge earth-filled dam 1,300 feet wide at the base, with a capacity of 775 acres of water, created Lake Arrowhead.

In the virgin forest of oak, cedar and fir surrounding the present lake old roads wind through the trees to the water's edge, where they disappear to emerge again on the opposite side of the lake.

The historical research workers believe these trails once traversed the former mountain slopes and merged with the old Arrowhead trail in the desert, near Victorville and Hesperia.

Holidays in Brazil Come Thick and Fast

The man who covets numerous holidays should move to Brazil. According to a work issued by a trust company of New York, "Bank and Public Holidays Throughout the World," Brazil enjoys eleven public holidays, and augments this allowance by many unofficial holidays which are generally observed. Starting well off the mark on January 1, with New Year's day there is an interval for work until the 6th, which is Epiphany. Follows a period of hard slogging until the 20th, when the state of Rio downs tools. Another state follows suit on the 25th, and still another on the 27th, which is the last holiday in January. Most months are like that in Brazil. In fact one or two months—such as April—are still more bountifully provided with holidays.

Welcome Stranger

A distinguished westerner, subject to severe attacks of indigestion, was traveling with his wife. Late one night in a pullman, he was seized with an attack. His wife slipped on a kimono and hurried to the washroom to prepare a mustard plaster. She rushed back hastily threw aside the curtains, opened his pajamas and applied the plaster securely before she discovered it wasn't her husband, but a strange man. She fled horrified to the right berth and told her husband, who went into such fits of laughter that his indigestion was cured. If they tried to take off the plaster they would awaken the stranger. To avoid a difficult explanation they decided just to leave it on.

At 6 a. m. there was a terrific roar from the stranger's berth. "Porter," he howled, "who the h—l put a porcupine in my bed!"—Everybody's Magazine.

Origin of the Clock

The first clock, according to Harry C. Brearly, was produced about 900 A. D. by Gerbert, the monk, who was the most accomplished scholar of the age. At that time the monks were the only people of learning to whom marking off of a day's time was significant. They used bells to mark off the various periods of the day, much as some churches do today. The sounding of the ancient bells was depended upon by all the people and that is why the word "clock" was taken from the French word "cloche," which means "bell." At the close of the Thirteenth century a clock was set up in St. Paul's cathedral in London, and in 1581 Galileo, an Italian youth, discovered the principle of the pendulum.

Corinne Griffith and Lloyd Hughes in "Declasse"

Corinne Griffith Here in "Declasse" deserves special mention for the excellence of his work.

The story deals with the unhappy marriage of Lady Helen Haden, played by Miss Griffith, and her love for an American, Ned Thayer, who has allowed himself to fall into the clutches of an adventurer. His reformation and her future happiness form the basis of an exciting and entertaining story.

"Declasse," as a stage play, was made famous by Ethel Barrymore.

THE NEW WAY TO IRON Fine Clothes

Even if you send your clothes to the wet wash laundry, the clothes still must be ironed. The problem of ironing clothes is just as important as the washing, but lack of space has made it difficult for women to take advantage of electric ironing machines. The new Thor Folding Ironer solves this problem.

The most expert hand laundress cannot excel the work done by the new Thor Folding Ironer. Table linen is given a beautiful finish. The roll, 31 inches long, takes tablecloths, sheets and other wide pieces doubled, very easily.

The Thor irons EVERYTHING—collars, cuffs, neckbands, ruffles, flounces, etc., as well as flat work—men's trousers pressed perfectly.

Thor Folding Electric Ironer

The Thor Folding Ironer can be heated and operated by electricity from any electric convenience outlet already in your home; or heated by gas, if desired.

Two levers, one at each end of the roll, automatically control every operation. Just a touch of the finger on either one of these levers, starts and stops the shoe—as easy as pressing the electric light button.

Thor quality and service is appreciated by a million users.

The new Thor Folding Ironer is almost human in the work it will do for you. And best of all, it is so designed that when the ironing's done you can fold the Thor into the vertical position and roll it into an unused corner of the kitchen or closet where it is out of the way until you need it again.

When folded, the Thor requires floor space of 22 x 26 inches, about the size of a kitchen chair.

Woes of Shop Girls in Big Screen Play

A shop girl who has never had a good time in her young life, is Virginia Valli's latest role. The popular Universal star, heads a well-known cast of favorites with Norman Kerry in this production, "The Price of Pleasure," a Universal Jewel, which has its first local showing at the Lyceum Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

"The Price of Pleasure" was written by Elizabeth Holding and Marion Orth, who are among the most famous of present day writers for screen production. Universal bought the story because of its particular fitness for Miss Valli and Kerry, and is said to have exercised special care in the selection of the supporting cast.

Those paragraphers are great observers. One says: "At a party a man usually eats something he shouldn't, and a woman generally says something she shouldn't." Another remarks: "A man is always wanting someone to tell him how handsome he looks; a woman will just stand before a glass and see for herself."

THE NEW WAY TO IRON Fine Clothes

Even if you send your clothes to the wet wash laundry, the clothes still must be ironed. The problem of ironing clothes is just as important as the washing, but lack of space has made it difficult for women to take advantage of electric ironing machines. The new Thor Folding Ironer solves this problem.

The most expert hand laundress cannot excel the work done by the new Thor Folding Ironer. Table linen is given a beautiful finish. The roll, 31 inches long, takes tablecloths, sheets and other wide pieces doubled, very easily.

The Thor irons EVERYTHING—collars, cuffs, neckbands, ruffles, flounces, etc., as well as flat work—men's trousers pressed perfectly.

Thor Folding Electric Ironer

The Thor Folding Ironer can be heated and operated by electricity from any electric convenience outlet, already in your home; or heated by gas, if desired.

Two levers, one at each end of the roll, automatically control every operation. Just a touch of the finger on either one of these levers, starts and stops the shoe—as easy as pressing the electric light button.

Thor quality and service is appreciated by a million users.

The new Thor Folding Ironer is almost human in the work it will do for you. And best of all, it is so designed that when the ironing is done you can fold the Thor into the vertical position and roll it into an unused corner of the kitchen or closet where it is out of the way until you need it again.

In his address at the American Retailers association meeting at St. Louis, T. K. Kelly of Minneapolis, told how to wage successful war on the bell ringer. This bell ringer, says Mr. Kelly, is selling thousands upon thousands of dollars of merchandise in each community in the country, that should be sold through the established retail store.

The bell ringer, continued Mr. Kelly, is a growing competition in the retail store, because the housewife is ignorant of the economics of distribution and she believes the unsupported claim that he can sell better and cheaper than the retail stores.

And the weapon to use against him? Good advertising, especially newspaper advertising, is the greatest weapon of the retail merchant in eliminating this house-to-house canvasser. Mr. Kelly maintains it has become the habit of the American people to do practically all their shopping through the newspaper and the newspapers in America today have too great an economic force to need any recommendation.

The crying need of the public today, said the speaker, is better educated clerks; more complete stocks and real appreciation on the part of the retailers and their associates of their customers. The Austin, Texas, Chamber of Commerce waged a campaign against bell ringers by distributing a door card, warning canvassers they were not desired, which, it was reported, were placed on 90 per cent of all front doors in the city.

The Anoka Herald recently evolved a card to be tacked to one's door giving notice to "outside" agents and peddlers that the occupants of such home bought only of Anoka merchants. THE DISPATCH has printed similar cards and many have requested these cards as a sort of self protection.

It should be remembered that no criticism is leveled against the soliciting of local merchants, who may put on sales campaigns, or the solicitation of farmers who wish to dispose of garden and other produce. The criticism is leveled at the out of town agent and canvasser, whose success in his pursuit takes away legitimate business from an established business man in Brainerd. The business man pays taxes, supports the civic activities and helps to build up the town. The out-of-town canvasser is here today and at the next town next day and works solely to make his commission.

THE COUNTRY EDITOR

The country editor is often the butt of jokes and sometimes stands exposed to the world like a damaged flivver. Man was tinkering under the car and came out when he saw a big bus approaching. "Know anything about flivvers?" he queried of the bus man. "Nope," said the latter, "all I know is a few jokes."

Here is a joke on the country editor which is so old that it has whiskers. A country editor, having worked hard for thirty years, retired with a $50,000 capital. He explained as follows: "I attribute my ability to retire with $50,000 to the fact that I worked very hard and saved every cent—and to the death of an uncle who left me $49,999.50."

This joke just came to the attention of Arthur Brisbane and the widely known editorial writer syndicated these comments:

"Ten thousand country editors could testify that there's more truth than humor in that anecdote. The most useful, underpaid and earnest body of men in the nation are the editors of country newspapers."

"The pathetic fact is that they would be highly prosperous men if business and advertisers realized the truth that the country newspaper, in proportion to its circulation, is the best advertising medium in the country."

Every newspaper man knows this. And so do the catalog houses. The latter send no flood of catalogs to a community which supports its home newspaper and whose business men make use of the paper's advertising columns and use copy which gives prices and other up-to-date store news.

ALIEN HANDS WIN HONORS

ALIEN hands often win honors in various fields and oust the native contestants.

For instance, at an international piping contest held recently in Paris it was judged that M. Jousin de Comenase of Czechoslovakia made the best squeals come out of his bagpipe. He faced a large field of venerable Scotchmen and piped them down, and it certainly looked as though the Campbell were not coming that day.

In the ski line of endeavor, a red-headed, little Irishman, Barney Riley, of Coleraine, has achieved considerable prominence and his flaming boy, as he speeds down the course, looks like a torch in Scandinavia.

FEMININE STYLES

THE vogue in feminine styles is to discard the superfluous. Keen men observers are worried as to what will be designated the final limit. In the march of events there has been a sort of evolution and among the erstwhile manufacturers to fall by the wayside are these:

The man who made hairpins and lost his job when bobbed hair came.

The man who made corsets and who sees his customers dwindle.

The man who made petticoats and now finds few are used.

THE Staples World philosophical department gives this editorial thought. "Man is a peculiar animal. He can see a pretty ankle three blocks off while driving his car on a cloudy noon day on a busy street, but can't see a locomotive as big as a house with a string of eighty-three box cars a half block off while driving on a deserted country road."

THE church is not made up of people who are better than the rest but of those who are trying to be better than they are. It is this common struggle after higher ideals that inspires the weakest member and fires the strongest, says the Bemidji Daily Pioneer.

nares assembled for the first business session today to further the work of the organization, place welfare work on a firmer foundation and receive reports of various department heads, together with recommendations for outlining future activity.

With several rough spots in the Legion work due to be ironed out, a stormy session is expected tomorrow when the delegates receive reports from committees investigating activities of the United States Veterans Bureau.

It is known that one of the reports, although treated confidentially for the past several weeks, contains recommendations for the resignation of C. E. Hibbard, district director of the bureau.

Election of a successor to Department Commander Edwin L. Lindell and a department adjutant to succeed Stafford King, resigned, is sharing interest on the program with the receiving of reports, the parading of bands and drum corps from all sections of the state, and general social features.

Proposals for drastic changes in district organization and procedure will be placed before the convention. The new plan provides each congressional district shall elect a state executive committeeman to serve as chairman of the district. This move has been recommended as an economy measure by Luther Young, Minneapolis.

Thief River Falls welcomed the first of the delegates yesterday with each train bringing scores of others to the meeting. Colors of each post have been prominently displayed throughout the business session, with delegations parading through the streets, accompanied by their bands and drum corps, at short intervals.

PLEDGES SELVES TO REHABILITATION

Thief River Falls, Aug. 10. — Pledging themselves to further Americanization, rehabilitation and welfare work members of the American Legion Auxiliary swung into the opening session of the three-day convention here.

Mayor E. S. Arneson welcomed the delegates to the city today before the general routine business was rushed through to completion. Mrs. Eugene Fenelon, Devils Lake, N. D., regional vice-president, urged the delegates to "consider their work just started with the bulk of the hardships yet to be cleared away."

Thirty seconds of silence in honor of the boys who "went west," featured the morning session. Caucusing by districts for convention committee, joining members of the American Legion in a "talk fest" and receiving of reports from department heads will complete the session.

SEEK DEPORTATION OF ALIENS CONVICTED OF FELONY

Indianapolis, Aug. 10.—Passage of legislation for the deportation of all aliens convicted of felony was urged in a resolution adopted here today by the Americanization committee of the American Legion.

The resolution calls upon the national convention to adopt a similar resolution, calling upon congress to adopt legislation for the deportation of alien law violators.

No Dry Cell for Him

Sim Updike was taken into court the other day as the result of having a slight mixup with a clerk in the Cash Food store. It seems they were arguing over a baseball game and the clerk hit Sim with a 10-cent bag of salt he happened to have in his hand. Sim countered with a B-battery he was taking back to a radio store on account of its being run down. The judge said this was the clearest case of assault and battery that had ever come before him, and that both parties seemed equally guilty. Sim pleaded however, that as the battery was dis-charged he should also be discharged and the judge saw the logic of it and let him off.

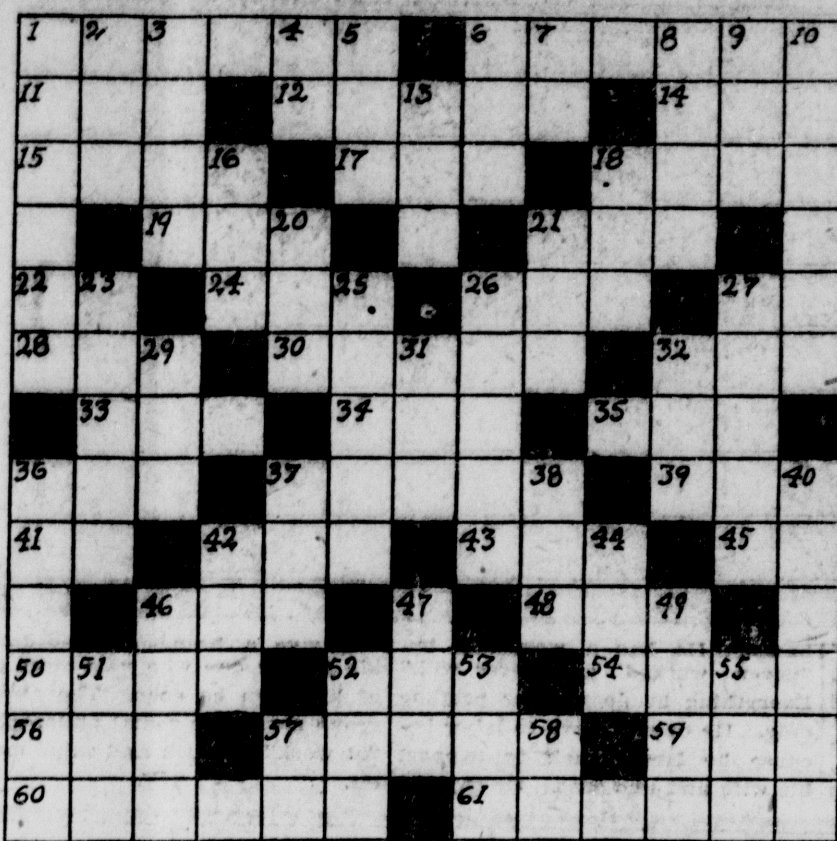

The Law's Delay

The longest lawsuit I have ever heard of is one that was started in the Ninth century—and it is still going on! It crops up periodically in the republic of Andorra, in the Pyrenees, and relates to some property referred to in a contract drawn up over 1,000 years ago. The laws of Andorra are in a somewhat undecided state, and there is no immediate prospect of the case being settled. The lawsuit is thus about a thousand years old.—Tit-Bits.

A man should fear when he enjoys only the good he does publicly. Is it not publicity rather than charity, which he loves? Is it not vanity, rather than benevolence, that gives such charities?—Henry Ward Beecher.

KNUTSON ADOPTED BY CHIPPEWA TRIBE

MINNESOTA CONGRESSMAN IS MADE HONORARY CHIEF

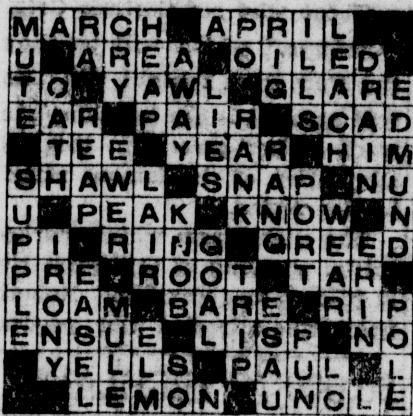

Deer River, Minn., Aug. 10. — Amidst primeval pines and in the presence of 3,000 persons, 1,000 of whom were Chippewa Indians, Congressman Harold Knutson was adopted into the Chippewa tribe at ceremonies conducted eight miles west of here at 2 p. m. Saturday.

Before the largest gathering of Chippewas in years, Congressman Knutson was vested with an honorary chieftainship and was given the Indian name Gwe-Weezance, after old Chief Hole-in-the-Day. Decision to adopt the congressman was taken by the Chippewa council at Bena, July 23.

A note of discord was stressed at the meeting Saturday when Fond du Lac Indians from Superior and Duluth, led by John Arten, Dave Smith and Mrs. Jennie Beaulieu, vigorously protested against the adoption, claiming there was no precedence for such action and that the decision was railroaded through the council at Bena.

Despite an explanation by Ed Wilson, leader of the White Oaks Indians, who were among the prime factors in moving the decision to adopt Congressman Knutson, the protestations were continued and a formal demand was made for a council vote. The demand, however, was ignored.

Among those who witnessed the ceremonies of adoption were Congressman Walter Newton, Minneapolis; Larson, Duluth; Carrs, Proctor

and William Spry, former governor of Utah.

Despite the protests of the Fond du Lac Indians, which was made just before the induction ceremonies, those familiar with the council procedure maintained that the adoption was wholly regular. Ed Wilson, the White Oaks leader, explained that the title was purely an honorary one. The council of the Chippewas met again Sunday preliminary to the close of the celebration today.

Famous Church Council

The council of Trent was summoned by Pope Pius III in 1545. The ecumenical council lasted nearly twenty years, as it was frequently interrupted by wars and other causes. Its object was reform in the Catholic church and a repudiation of the doctrines of Luther and other Protestant reformers.

"Let George Do It"

This phrase is said to have originated in France as "Laissez faire a Georges" in the fifteenth century and at first had a satirical reference to the many activities of Cardinal Georges d'Amboise, prime minister to Louis XII. Later it became common slang, was translated into English and was adopted in America without any comprehension of its original meaning.

Employees of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), who have taken advantage of the Company's Stock Purchasing Plan in 1925, will get their stock at $62.00 per share, regardless of what the price may be during the remainder of the year.

This is the average market price for a six months' period ending March 31, 1925.

In reality, Standard Oil employees get their stock at $41.33 per share, as the Company adds, as a gift, 50c to every dollar invested by the employee.

Regarding the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) Stock Purchasing Plan, Mr. O. A. Mather, in the Chicago Tribune, says:

"Behind this lies a story of relations to employees almost unique in American industry."

"Four years ago the Standard Oil directors translated into action their belief that employees would be more efficient and loyal if they were stockholders and also that they should be permitted to share the profits. While this was not a new idea, the plan worked out by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) was somewhat of a departure from custom."

"The directors announced a five year stock acquisition plan whereby employees might subscribe for stock to the extent of one-fifth of their annual salaries. This constituted a partial payment plan. But as an additional incentive and reward the directors stated that for every dollar put in by an employee the company would add 50 cents. As the price of the stock each year is based on the average market price for a preceding period, the company, in effect, is selling stock to its employees at two-thirds of its market value."

The result of making the employee ownership of stock attractive has been to promote harmony, encourage industrious efficiency and to harbor contentment among the employees; in short, to instill and nourish the spirit of service, which reacts to the distinct benefit of the patrons of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in the ten Middle Western states where the Company is straining every nerve and fibre to serve thirty million people with petroleum products of high quality, when and where they need them.

Deer River, Minn., Aug. 10.—Amidst primeval pines and in the presence of 3,000 persons, 1,000 of whom were Chippewa Indians, Congressman Harold Knutson was adopted into the Chippewa tribe at ceremonies conducted eight miles west of here at 2 p. m. Saturday.

Before the largest gathering of Chippewas in years, Congressman Knutson was vested with an honorary chieftainship and was given the Indian name Gwe-Weeziance, after old Chief Hole-in-the-Day. Decision to adopt the congressman was taken by the Chippewa council at Bena, July 23.

A note of discord was stressed at the meeting Saturday when Fond du Lac Indians from Superior and Duluth, led by John Arden, Dave Smith and Mrs. Jennie Beaulieu, vigorously protested against the adoption, claiming there was no precedence for such action and that the decision was railroaded through the council at Bena.

Despite an explanation by Ed Wilson, leader of the White Oaks Indians, who were among the prime factors in moving the decision to adopt Congressman Knutson, the protestations were continued and a formal demand was made for a council vote. The demand, however, was ignored.

Among those who witnessed the ceremonies of adoption were Congressman Walter Newton, Minneapolis; Larson, Duluth; Carrs, Proctor

and William Spry, former governor of Utah.

Despite the protests of the Fond du Lac Indians, which was made just before the induction ceremonies, those familiar with the council procedure maintained that the adoption was wholly regular. Ed Wilson, the White Oaks leader, explained that the title was purely an honorary one. The council of the Chippewas met again Sunday preliminary to the close of the celebration today.

Famous Church Council

The council of Trent was summoned by Pope Pius III in 1545. The ecumenical council lasted nearly twenty years, as it was frequently interrupted by wars and other causes. Its object was reform in the Catholic church and a repudiation of the doctrines of Luther and other Protestant reformers.

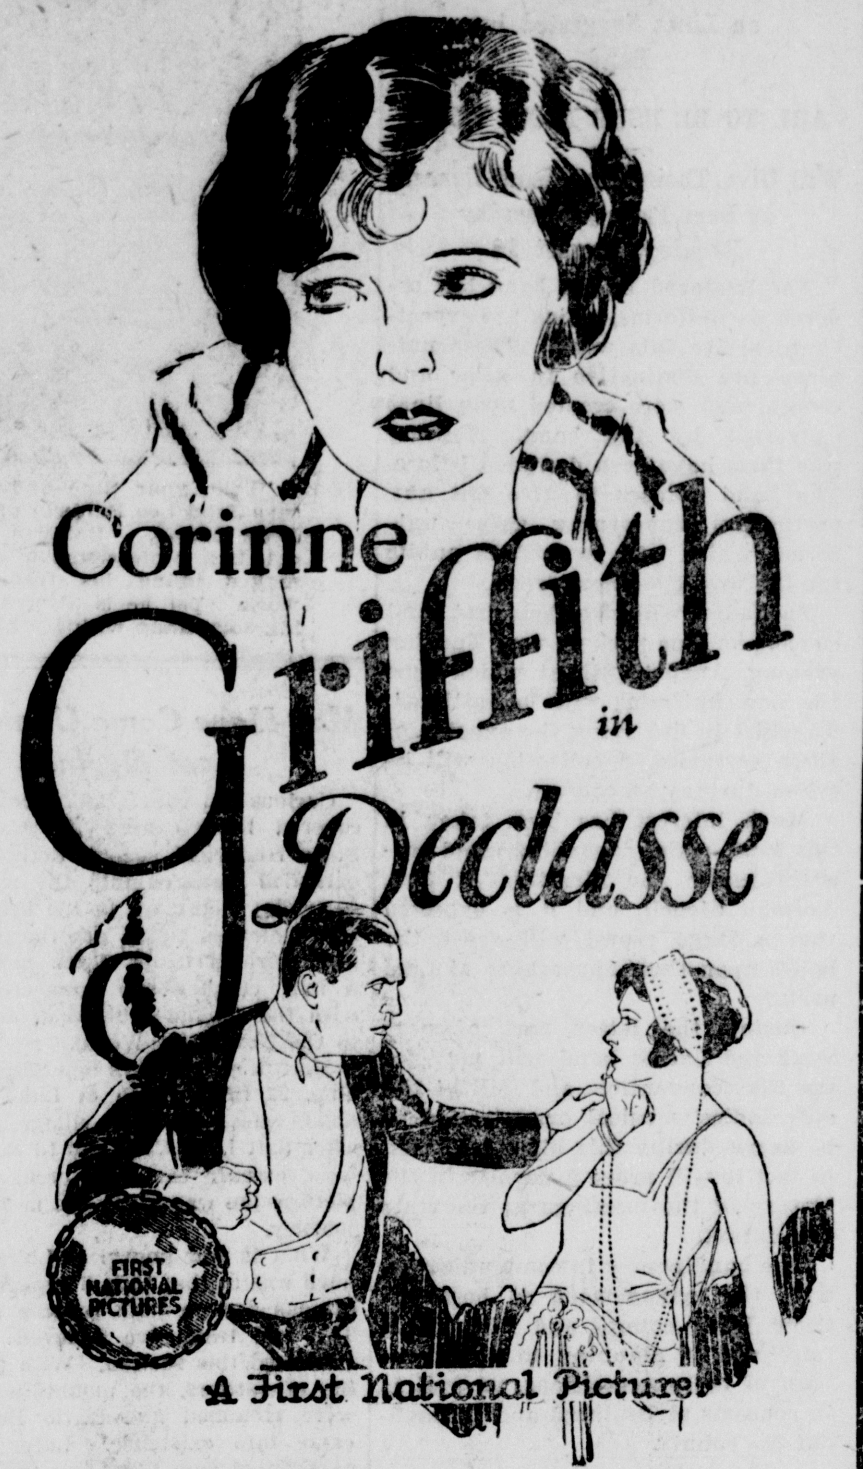

"Let George Do It"

This phrase is said to have originated in France as "Laissez faire a Georges" in the Fifteenth century and at first had a satirical reference to the many activities of Cardinal Georges d'Amboise, prime minister to Louis XII. Later it became common slang, was translated into English and was adopted in America without any comprehension of its original meaning.

Employees of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), who have taken advantage of the Company's Stock Purchasing Plan in 1925, will get their stock at $62.00 per share, regardless of what the price may be during the remainder of the year.

This is the average market price for a six months' period ending March 31, 1925.

In reality, Standard Oil employees get their stock at $41.33 per share, as the Company adds, as a gift, 50c to every dollar invested by the employee.

Regarding the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) Stock Purchasing Plan, Mr. O. A. Mather, in the Chicago Tribune, says:

"Behind this lies a story of relations to employees almost unique in American industry."

"Four years ago the Standard Oil directors translated into action their belief that employees would be more efficient and loyal if they were stockholders and also that they should be permitted to share the profits. While this was not a new idea, the plan worked out by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) was somewhat of a departure from custom."

"The directors announced a five year stock acquisition plan whereby employees might subscribe for stock to the extent of one-fifth of their annual salaries. This constituted a partial payment plan. But as an additional incentive and reward the directors stated that for every dollar put in by an employee the company would add 50 cents. As the price of the stock each year is based on the average market price for a preceding period, the company, in effect, is selling stock to its employees at two-thirds of its market value."

The result of making the employee ownership of stock attractive has been to promote harmony, encourage industrious efficiency and to harbor contentment among the employees; in short, to instill and nourish the spirit of service, which reacts to the distinct benefit of the patrons of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in the ten Middle Western states where the Company is straining every nerve and fibre to serve thirty million people with petroleum products of high quality, when and where they need them.

GERMANY ASKS FREEDOM TO ARM HER MEN

PACT

UNITED PRESS FOREIGN EXPERT
REVIEWS THE SITUATION

By J. W. T. MASON
(Written for the United Press)
Termination of allied control over German armaments is being demanded by the Berlin government as the price of Germany's consent to a European security pact. This question, the gravest facing the world today, must eventually be brought forth for settlement; and when it is settled in Germany's favor, the making of Germany's war of revenge will begin.

Europe cannot forever remain as guardians of the trans-Rhine territory. Some time in the future, the allied commission regulating Germany's military power will have to be disabled. Germany must be given her complete freedom if for no other reason than because of the impossibility of holding 65,000,000 Germans in their present form of servitude. If France could permanently keep Germany disarmed, the European question would become easy of settlement; but France has not the capacity to do this, and the other major powers of Europe will not stand by France in perpetuity.

Germany Raises Issue

Since the ending of the world war, the allies have refrained from considering the fact that sooner or later Germany must regain full control over her own armaments. All allied diplomacy, under French influence, has been based on the assumption that the Germans can be held in subjection. But, Germany has now raised the issue, as it was certain to be raised, and it will remain as a red reality in the minds of Europe's statesmen until a permanent settlement is reached.

Once Germany is allowed to do as she likes in reorganizing and reequipping her army, the balance of power in continental Europe will undergo a change overnight. Poland and Czechoslovakia, allies of France under present conditions with Germany bound and helpless, will have to reconsider their international positions when the German war machine is reconstructed. The world war showed how effectively and irresistibly the German army could act against east European opponents on even numerical terms. Poland and Czechoslovakia would be at Germany's mercy with the latter's military efficiency restored.

Poland in Hopeless Position

Poland, especially, would be in an utterly hopeless position if Germany were to form an offensive alliance with Russia; for then the Poles would be crushed between two foes. The Czechoslovaks realize this situation better than the Poles, for the statesmen of Czechoslovakia are among the cleverest in Europe. Nevertheless, Czechoslovakia cannot save herself simply by leaving France and making friends with Germany. There are great numbers of Germans held in subjection as the minority race in Czechoslovakia, and Germany will seek to compel the Czechs to grant them equal rights once Germany military might is restored.

France will try to postpone the release of Germany from military control as long as possible counting on Polish and Czech help. But, France is herself in a grave quandary because Germany has linked her release disarmament with the negotiations for a joint security pact. No security agreement is worth anything to France that does not bear the signature of Great Britain. The present British government, under the Francophile influence of Foreign Minister Austen Chamberlain, wants to support France. The people of Great Britain generally desire a security agreement, seeing in this the only hope of reviving trade. But, the British have a large fund of common sense in international matters, and they cannot see any advantage in a security agreement which does not include Germany.

Serious Blow to Britain

Now, however, the Germans have made the security negotiations take on a farcical character by insisting that in exchange for helping to keep the peace in Europe Germany shall be allowed to reorganize her war machine. The blow is a serious one for the British government, which has been basing its negotiations, without quite realizing it, on the bland assumption that Germany will remain unarmed throughout the indefinite future.

France cannot obtain an agreement with Great Britain guaranteeing peace, if Germany is to be allowed to arm for

Thus, the initiative in European diplomacy is gradually moving into German hands. The Baldwin government in Great Britain and the succession of ministries which passes in review in Paris are gradually being backed into an impossible corner by the very logic of trans-Atlantic events.

To the Users of Palmolive Soap

Mere "olive and palm" soaps are not like it

MANY millions of women know that Palmolive Soap has brought them new beauty, new attractiveness. The reason lies in olive and palm oils, but not in any ordinary blend.

Olive and palm oils have for ages held supreme place as cosmetics. But no one dreamed what they could do until Palmolive Soap was created. This was a unique production, based on 60 years of soap study. The result of modern scientific study of the skin.

Palmolive has become, on this account, the leading toilet soap of the world. Now it is made in five countries, to meet the world-wide demand. It is made in France, the home of fine cosmetics, because French women find it gives them the results they seek. Old "olive and palm" soaps—even real castile—have been largely replaced by Palmolive.

Now, after all this, let no one convince you that any "olive and palm" soap is much like it. Some are very ordinary indeed, with artificial color. Some are even super-fatted.

They will cleanse, of course. But ages have proved that they never do what Palmolive does for complexions.

Note the unnatural "too green" color of Palmolive imitators. What does that suggest? Men don't paint nature to improve it.

Olive and palm oils—nothing else—give Palmolive its delicate, natural color. Olive and palm oils—no other fats whatsoever—are used in Palmolive.

No "super-fattening," no "super-anything" — the only secret to Palmolive is its blending. And that is judged one of the world's priceless beauty secrets.

Palmolive is not the only great complexion soap. We know of two that fairly compare, but they cost 25 cents. Palmolive costs 10 cents, due to enormous production.

If you seek a healthful skin, there is only that choice — a costly soap or Palmolive. Mere so-called "olive and palm" soaps cannot bring it. Let no one mislead you on this point, for any selfish purpose.

Wash, launder, cleanse with any soap you wish. But when beauty is at stake — take care. Use Palmolive, nature's formula to "Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion."

For Germs

Soaps to "destroy" germs should be used only by advice of a physician. All soaps "remove" germs to a certain degree. No soap safe for toilet use will "remove" germs any better than Palmolive.

The real difference in soaps is in their action on your skin. Some are too harsh, others crudely blended. Palmolive Soap is a unique creation, a blend of rare cosmetic oils; a soap made for one purpose only, to foster good complexions. Don't expect Palmolive complexion results from any strong "medicated" soap, from any "jack-of-all-trades" soap, from any soap claiming alike for fabric washing and the skin.

Note carefully
the name and wrapper.
Palmolive is never sold unwrapped.

Cape Grisez, France, Aug. 10.—Swimming strongly and riding on a favorable current which was bearing her northward, Miss Lillian Harrison, Argentine girl, who set out shortly after noon today to swim the English channel, was making good progress this evening. Cape Grisez, France, Aug. 10.—Lillian Harrison, Argentine swimmer, abandoned at 7:30 this evening her fourth attempt to swim the English Channel. The girl from Buenos Aires started from Grisez at 1:20 p. m. today and appeared to be making good progress although unfavorable weather conditions developed after she left the French coast. After five hours' swimming with a favorable tide, Miss Harrison had reached a point more than seven miles from Grisez, but was forced to quit.

NORWAY'S SONS RANK HIGH IN YANKEE SPORTS

Practically every American yacht that has defended the international title against Sir Thomas Lipton of Ireland has been manned by Norwegian crews. In the race between the Resolute, American defender, and the challenger, Shamrock, in 1920, the entire crew of the Resolute was made up of Norwegians. The master of the American defender was Captain Chris Christensen of Brooklyn, a Norwegian. The racing master of the New York Yacht Club since 1874 is Louis Blix from Sandefjord, Norway.

In the famous dog races of Canada, Norwegian drivers have often come out victorious. Albert Pink, a Norwegian, was the first to organize the Nome Kennel Club in Alaska in 1908. At Nome the all-Alaska sweepstakes were established as a great annual event, and Leonard Seppela, a Norwegian, has often been returned a winner.

And so on down the line. There is hardly a sport in America today that doesn't find a Norwegian among the leaders.

MURCHISON DENIES PADDING ACCOUNTS

New York, Aug. 10.—Loren Murchison, sprinter, who with Charles W. Paddock made a world tour ending in England, returned yesterday on the Mauretania.

Murchison declared that he would file a complete statement of all their expenses with the Amateur Athletic union within 10 days.

Paddock is expected to arrive on the Arabic next week.

N. P. CUTS FREIGHT ON POSTS AND POLES

The Northern Pacific Railway company, through its agricultural representative, John W. Haw, has just announced that beginning August 10, a 40 per cent cut in the freight rates on rough poles and posts will go into effect, affecting shipments of these products from northern Minnesota to other points in Minnesota and North Dakota. The above reductions are made especially at this time in order that farmers may plan their winter's cutting of wood products for farmers in this territory for building sheds, etc. These rates will be effective until June 30, 1926.

Farmers having quantities of posts and poles for sale should send their listing to the County Agent's office where this will be made and communicated to clubs in other sections of the state.

Huggins Buys Infielders to Strengthen Yankees

Miller Huggins is going to have a lot of infielders to look over in the spring. The club last week purchased Leo Durocher, 19-year-old shortstop, from Hartford of the Eastern league, for delivery September 20. In getting the youngster the Yankees stepped in ahead of the Chicago Cubs who were supposed to have bid $10,000 for the kid. Durocher is leading the shortstops of the league in fielding and is fast and a good hitter.

Motor cars are thicker this summer, than ever before, on Minnesota highways. But so are pedestrians, especially up in the lake regions where the short hike is growing in popularity. Automobiles and hikers do not mix well. A sprinkling of pedestrians along the road ahead slows up the car and puts a strain on the driver's nerves. A procession of honking motors keeps the pedestrian on the jump, chokes his lungs with dust and exhaust fumes, and spoils his hike in other ways. And frequently, despite reasonable care on the part of both driver and walker, somebody is run over.

The experienced spurns the motor highway. He strikes off across country, or swings along hidden lanes. But, unfortunately, most of those who walk are not experienced hikers. Possibly they fear the by-way the thicket and the swamp. At any rate, they stick to the main road, with its hum of traffic.

For such folk there is a practice that minimizes the danger inherent in a mixing of plodding pedestrians and whizzing automobiles. Let them invariably walk on the left side of the road. It is the safest way. The journeyer afoot thus always faces approaching traffic. He has a better chance to watch and avoid motors. The driver has a better chance to sight the pedestrian. At night this precaution is doubly essential, for a headlight will pick out a face, or a white shirt waist when the back of a person darkly clad will be virtually invisible.—Minneapolis Journal.

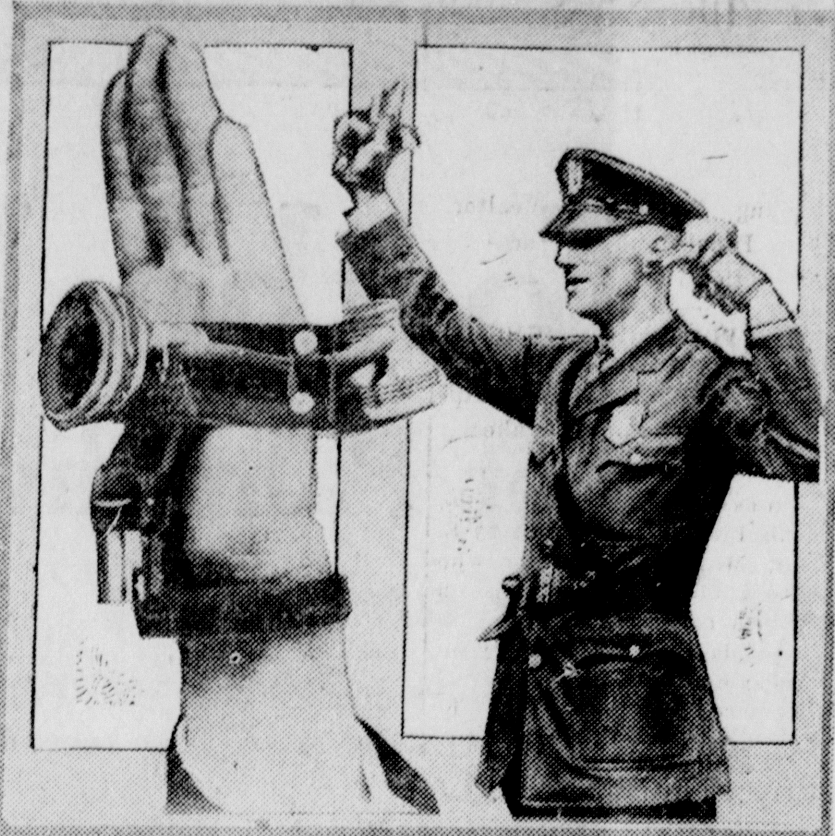

"Pennsylvania"

The province of Pennsylvania was not named in honor of the William Penn of American fame, but in honor of his father, Sir William Penn, who had been high in the favor of King Charles II of England. William Penn had selected the name "New Wales" for his grant, on account of the hills. The fact that the name Penn was Welsh for head or highland determined the king to adopt it for the new territory, and its reported beauty added the title "Sylvania."

The car that put the War in Warren

Jim Warren bought a car—the "Gingerbread Six."

Never heard of it before, but he happened to be walking along Automobile Row and during a lapse moment his foot slipped—he stepped inside.

"Nifty boat," said the salesman.

"Not bad," said Jim, as paint and doo-dabs got in their hypnotic work.

"But why isn't it advertised?" asked Jim.

"Don't need to advertise a job like that," was the forearmed reply. Sounded logical. But—

Six months later Jim had a collection of bolts and grease-cups and broken springs and disjointed steering mechanism and a motor that almost ran.

"Never again!" said Jim. "The car that's little known and never advertised hasn't much responsibility; little to live up to. Before I buy another car—or another anything—I'm going to get the facts. I'm going to read the advertisements about automobiles—or whatever I'm buying."

Advertisements are an invaluable guide to intelligent buying.

Abandons Attempt

Cape Grisez, France, Aug. 10.—Lillian Harrison, Argentine swimmer, abandoned at 7:30 this evening her fourth attempt to swim the English Channel. The girl from Buenos Aires started from Grisez at 1:20 p. m. today and appeared to be making good progress although unfavorable weather conditions developed after she left the French coast. After five hours swimming with a favorable tide, Miss Harrison had reached a point more than seven miles from Grisez, but was forced to quit.

NORWAY'S SONS RANK HIGH IN YANKEE SPORTS

Practically every American yacht that has defended the international title against Sir Thomas Lipton of Ireland has been manned by Norwegian crews. In the race between the Resolute, American defender, and the challenger, Shamrock, in 1920, the entire crew of the Resolute was made up of Norwegians. The master of the American defender was Captain Chris Christensen of Brooklyn, a Norwegian. The racing master of the New York Yacht Club since 1874 is Louis Blix from Sandefjord, Norway.

In the famous dog races of Canada, Norwegian drivers have often come out victorious. Albert Fink, a Norwegian, was the first to organize the Nome Kennel Club in Alaska in 1908. At Nome the all-Alaska sweepstakes were established as a great annual event, and Leonard Seppela, a Norwegian, has often been returned a winner.

And so on down the line. There is hardly a sport in America today that doesn't find a Norwegian among the leaders.

MURCHISON DENIES PADDING ACCOUNTS

New York, Aug. 10.—Loren Murchison, sprinter, who with Charles W. Paddock made a world tour ending in England, returned yesterday on the Mauretania.

He denied reports from Germany that he and Paddock had run up exorbitant expense accounts.

Murchison declared that he would file a complete statement of all their expenses with the Amateur Athletic union within 10 days.

Paddock is expected to arrive on the Arabia next week.

New Golf Rule

New York, Aug. 10.—The golf rules committee announced the following rule, in agreement with the Royal and Ancient Club of St. Andrews:

"When a ball lodges in a hazard and the player does not play it out on the first stroke, the player may smooth with his club the heel marks made by his stance, without penalty, provided the player does nothing to improve the lie of the ball or assist the player in his subsequent play at the hole.

N. P. CUTS FREIGHT ON POSTS AND POLES

The Northern Pacific Railway company, through its agricultural representative, John W. Haw, has just announced that beginning August 10, a 40 per cent cut in the freight rates on rough poles and posts will go into effect, affecting shipments of these products from northern Minnesota to other points in Minnesota and North Dakota. The above reductions are made especially at this time in order that farmers may plan their winter's cutting of wood products for farmers in this territory for building sheds, etc. These rates will be effective until June 30, 1926.

Farmers having quantities of posts and poles for sale should send their listing to the County Agent's office where this will be made and communicated to clubs in other sections of the state.

Huggins Buys Infielders to Strengthen Yankees

Miller Huggins is going to have a lot of infielders to look over in the spring. The club last week purchased Leo Durocher, 19-year-old shortstop, from Hartford of the Eastern league, for delivery September 20. In getting the youngster the Yankees stepped in ahead of the Chicago Cubs who were supposed to have bid $10,000 for the kid. Durocher is leading the shortstops of the league in fielding and is fast and a good hitter.

Zack Wheat III

Pittsburgh, Aug. 10.—Zack Wheat, veteran slugging outfielder of Brooklyn and assistant manager, is out of the lineup with stomach trouble.

Klee Joins Cincinnati

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 10.—Ollie Klee, outfielder, has been signed by the Cincinnati nationals. Klee is a graduate of Ohio State university, where he starred in baseball and football.

Motor cars are thicker this summer, than ever before, on Minnesota highways. But so are pedestrians, especially up in the lake regions where the short hike is growing in popularity. Automobiles and hikers do not mix well. A sprinkling of pedestrians along the road ahead slows up the car and puts a strain on the driver's nerves. A procession of honking motors keeps the pedestrian on the jump, chokes his lungs with dust and exhaust fumes, and spoils his hike in other ways. And frequently, despite reasonable care on the part of both driver and walker, somebody is run over.

The experienced spurns the motor highway. He strikes off across country, or swings along hidden lanes. But, unfortunately, most of those who walk are not experienced hikers. Possibly they fear the by-way the thicket and the swamp. At any rate, they stick to the main road, with its hum of traffic.

For such folk there is a practice that minimizes the danger inherent in a mixing of plodding pedestrians and whizzing automobiles. Let them invariably walk on the left side of the road. It is the safest way. The journeyer afoot thus always faces approaching traffic. He has a better chance to watch and avoid motors. The driver has a better chance to sight the pedestrian. At night this precaution is doubly essential, for a headlight will pick out a face, or a white shirt waist when the back of a person darkly clad will be virtually invisible.—Minneapolis Journal.

The province of Pennsylvania was not named in honor of the William Penn of American fame, but in honor of his father, Sir William Penn, who had been high in the favor of King Charles II of England. William Penn had selected the name "New Wales" for his grant, on account of the hills. The fact that the name Penn was Welsh for head or highland determined the king to adopt it for the new territory, and its reported beauty added the title "Sylvania."

ACCOMPLISHES A DARING FEAT

A sensational feat was performed when Mary Van Evera, nine year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Van Evera swam across Serpen-

Boston Traffic Policeman with Signal Device, Like Miniature Tower, He Can Operate by Hand

Policeman John E. Prendergast is shown operating a new hand signal. The miniature tower, which is of especial value at night, is strapped to the hand and the light is operated by a small storage battery. The close-up photograph shows how the double lamp is held when signalling traffic.

Lake, a distance of over one-half mile. She left the shore of the Van Evera home and landed at the shore of the Fay home on Crosby Beach. On arriving at her destination she was not the least fatigued and would have been able to swim back. She was accompanied on the trip by her two little brothers, John and Jim, as well as a row boat which followed.

This is an exceptional feat for a girl of this age and is probably unprecedented in these parts.—Crosby Courier.

The car that put the War in Warren

Jim Warren bought a car—the "Gingerbread Six."

Never heard of it before, but he happened to be walking along Automobile Row and during a lapse moment his foot slipped—he stepped inside.

"Nifty boat," said the salesman.

"Not bad," said Jim, as paint and doo-dabs got in their hypnotic work.

"But why isn't it advertised?" asked Jim.

Six months later Jim had a collection of bolts and grease-cups and broken springs and disjointed steering mechanism and a motor that almost ran.

"Never again!" said Jim. "The car that's little known and never advertised hasn't much responsibility; little to live up to. Before I buy another car—or another anything—I'm going to get the facts. I'm going to read the advertisements about automobiles—or whatever I'm buying."

Advertisements are an invaluable guide to intelligent buying.

COMPETENT INSTRUCTION

Daily Routine Interspersed With Athletic Sports And Diversions
of All Kinds

Reports from the Citizens Military Training Camp at Fort Snelling, sent
by representatives from Brainerd,
Frank Payne, Filmore Rand and Hallett Clarkson, would lead one to believe that many of the prospective members who lost enthusiasm at the last moment will be envious of those who are enjoying Uncle Sam's vacation to his future military officers.

Four meals a day, competent and
earnest instructions in all branches
of civil and military life, constitute the daily routine, interspersed with athletic sports and diversion of all kinds, such as swimming daily at Nokomis beach, a military truck taking the boys to and from the beautiful lake, Wednesday and Saturday afternoons and evenings the boys have
to themselves, to do as they please,
either in St. Paul or in Minneapolis,
where the citizens seem to bend every effort to entertain those who wear
the red, white and blue hat cord, the distinctive mark of the citizen soldier in the making.

Guests are welcome at all times during the day, whether they are relatives of the boys or not, and a trip to the cities during the month
of August should not be called complete without visiting the citizens
military training camp. The Brainerd boys will be especially glad to receive visits from local people. The boys can be found in Companies "B" and "L" in the camp.

JOHN C. LUNDIEN DIED

City

John C. Lundien, of Sauk Center, father of Mrs. Ed. Hewitt, passed away Saturday morning at 10:30 o'- sulting from complications.

Mr. Lundien was born in Sweden,
January 25th, 1860. He came to the United States many years ago and has since been engaged in farming
near Sauk Center.

He is survived by his wife and several children, among them being Mrs.
Hewitt and her sister, Miss Jennie
Lundien, both of Brainerd.

The body was taken to Sauk Center on the noon train Monday, and the funeral will be held there on Tuesday afternoon, with interment
in the cemetery at that town.

BODY OF UNKNOWN IS FOUND IN LAKE

The body of an unknown man
about 40, fair complexioned, blue eyes, brown hair and weighing around 180 lbs., was found lodged on a sand bar in Mille Lacs lake about a block out from the shore near the home of Harvey Butts in Wealth-
wood Wednesday afternoon by Mrs.
Butts and Mrs. O. E. Runquist of
Clinton, Iowa, a member of the Wealthwood summer colony. From the condition of the body deputy coroner E. E. Seavey said the man had evidently been drowned three weeks. Nothing was found to establish identity. An "Admiral" 15-jeweled Swiss watch in a silver case
and attached to a flat link gold chain
was in the clothes. The case bore
the number 235579, and a date on the link of the chain was Feb. 1922.
A belt buckle was engraved with the letter "G." The body was brought into Aitkin and buried in Lakeview

NORTH WOODS CHARMING

Out of State Tourists Are Most Appreciative of Minnesota Lake
Country

The Minneapolis Sunday Tribune
carries this interview accorded by S.
S. Staring, Minneapolis realtor who has platted the Whiteley lands on the river east of Lum park:

Tracts of lake shore property in Minnesota's north woods, formerly almost inaccessible, can now be easily reached by automobile, an advantage which is bringing increasing numbers of new property owners to
the northern section of the state, S.
S. Staring, president of the Staring
Co., of Minneapolis, said Saturday.

"The charm of Minnesota's great north woods," Mr. Staring said, "is becoming more widely known, not only in our own state, but also in adjacent states which are less fortunate and can boast of no such beautiful vacation lands. There are thousands of acres still in the natural state, untouched and unspoiled by human activity.

"Our observations indicate that our neighbors who come here as tourists year after year are even more appreciative of Minnesota's wonderful north lake country than people
of Minnesota. Many of these folks drive hundreds of miles to take advantage of the attractions of the endless number of ideal vacation spots
and a large percentage of these tourists are purchasing permanent summer homes.

"Here they find a cabin spot exactly suited to their own tastes as to an ideal setting, be it lake shore or an isolated place somewhere among the towering pines. We find there is a keen demand for cabin sites which give privacy and quiet so much desired by the busy family of today.

"The miles and miles of paved and graveled highways throughout the state are bringing this great north woods almost to our very door. Today one may reach this interesting pine country in just a few hours of driving by automobile from Minneapolis. The roads are excellent."

COMPETENT INSTRUCTION

Daily Routine Interspersed With Athletic Sports And Diversions
of All Kinds

Training Camp at Fort Snelling, sent
by representatives from Brainerd,
Frank Payne, Filmore Rand and Hal-
lett Clarkson, would lead one to believe that many of the prospective
members who lost enthusiasm at the last moment will be envious of those who are enjoying Uncle Sam's vacation to his future military officers.

Four meals a day, competent and
earnest instructions in all branches
of civil and military life, constitute
the daily routine, interspersed with
kinds, such as swimming daily at Nokomis beach, a military truck taking the boys to and from the beautiful lake, Wednesday and Saturday afternoons and evenings the boys have
to themselves, to do as they please,
either in St. Paul or in Minneapolis,
where the citizens seem to bend every effort to entertain those who wear
the red, white and blue hat cord, the distinctive mark of the citizen soldier in the making.

Guests are welcome at all times
during the day, whether they are relatives of the boys or not, and a trip to the cities during the month
of August should not be called complete without visiting the citizens military training camp. The Brainerd boys will be especially glad to receive visits from local people. The boys can be found in Companies "B"
and "L" in the camp.

John C. Lundien, of Sauk Center,

sulting from complications.

Mr. Lundien was born in Sweden,
January 25th, 1860. He came to the United States many years ago and has since been engaged in farming
near Sauk Center.

He is survived by his wife and several children, among them being Mrs.
Hewitt and her sister, Miss Jennie
Lundien, both of Brainerd.

The body was taken to Sauk Center on the noon train Monday, and
the funeral will be held there on Tuesday afternoon, with interment
in the cemetery at that town.

BODY OF UNKNOWN IS FOUND IN LAKE

The body of an unknown man
about 40, fair complexioned, blue eyes, brown hair and weighing around 180 lbs., was found lodged on a sand bar in Mille Laes lake about a block out from the shore near the home of Harvey Butts in Wealth-
wood Wednesday afternoon by Mrs.
Butts and Mrs. O. E. Runquist of
Clinton, Iowa, a member of the Wealthwood summer colony. From
the condition of the body deputy coroner E. E. Seavey said the man
had evidently been drowned three weeks. Nothing was found to establish identity. An "Admiral" 15-
jeweled Swiss watch in a silver case
and attached to a flat link gold chain
was in the clothes. The case bore
the number 235570, and a date on
the link of the chain was Feb. 1922.
A belt buckle was engraved with the letter "G." The body was brought
cemetery.—Aitkin Independent Ag.

NORTH WOODS CHARMING

Out of State Tourists Are Most Appreciative of Minnesota Lake
Country

The Minneapolis Sunday Tribune
carries this interview accorded by S.
S. Staring, Minneapolis realtor who has platted the Whiteley lands on
the river east of Lum park:

Tracts of lake shore property in Minnesota's north woods, formerly
almost inaccessible, can now be easily reached by automobile, an advantage which is bringing increasing numbers of new property owners to
the northern section of the state, S.
S. Staring, president of the Staring
Co., of Minneapolis, said Saturday.

"The charm of Minnesota's great north woods," Mr. Staring said, "is becoming more widely known, not only in our own state, but also in
adjacent states which are less fortunate and can boast of no such beautiful vacation lands. There are thousands of acres still in the natural state, untouched and unspoiled by human activity.

"Our observations indicate that
our neighbors who come here as tourists year after year are even more appreciative of Minnesota's wonderful north lake country than people
of Minnesota. Many of these folks
drive hundreds of miles to take advantage of the attractions of the endless number of ideal vacation spots
and a large percentage of these tourists are purchasing permanent summer homes.

"Here they find a cabin spot exactly suited to their own tastes as to an ideal setting, be it lake shore or an isolated place somewhere among the towering pines. We find there is a keen demand for cabin sites which
give privacy and quiet so much desired by the busy family of today.

"The miles and miles of paved and
graveled highways throughout the state are bringing this great north
woods almost to our very door. Today one may reach this interesting
pine country in just a few hours of
driving by automobile from Minneapolis. The roads are excellent."

CHILDREN SUFFER FROM MOSQUITO BITES

Their little legs and arms get all "bit up." Children's skin is tender itching stops immediately. Burma-Vita is non-oily, fragrant, delightful. It is undoubtedly the greatest remedy for burns, mosquito bites and bee stings ever devised. Druggists,

Ain't Nature Grand?

Don't ever criticize the weather,
'cause you can't improve on it. Have you ever stopped to think what wonderful weather conditions we require and get, here in Minnesota to properly develop and mature the great diversity of crops we plant? We need
a wet spring to properly soak the ground with plenty of moisture; then we want the rains to stop until we get our seedling done; then we want a warm shower to give it the proper start; then we want the weather to remain cool until the grain is properly rooted and sprouted. We want wet weather to start our pastures,
dry weather for our small grain
crops and hay crops. A little later
we put in our corn and then we need some moisture to give it a proper start. It has got to warm up to make corn "knee high by the fourth of July," but at the same time it has to stay cool or our grain will not fill properly. And thus it goes all through the year even down to hoping we have a dry fall so that the threshing and other farm work can be gotten out of the way and still get enough moisture to make easy plowing. Then we want enough severely cold weather to kill destructive insects and foul weeds, plenty of snow to cover the fall seedling and clover and then again an early spring to get a good start on the seedling. And the wonder of it all is that we here in Minnesota generally get just about the right sort of weather conditions
every year, even though we don't always think so at the time.—Immigration Bulletin.

NEW PROSPECT FOR WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 10.—Like all other pugilistic managers who wouldn't turn down a million dollars, James J. Johnston, better known as "Jimmy, the Boy Bandit," is seeking a youngster to succeed to the heavyweight championship of the world.

Jimmy, as a fighter, a manager and a promoter, knows every corner and cupboard of the boxing game. He is also a champion story-teller and one of the most colorful optimists connected with the business.

He has to be an optimist or he wouldn't have remained in the boxing game with enough hope to convince him that he has a chance to find a heavyweight champion.

He ordered one champion out of his office years ago, but the next prospect that appears will find his arms open in welcome.

Several years ago Jimmy was sitting in his office staring out the window of the skyscraper on the roofs of the "Roaring Forties."

He was aroused from deep thought when the door opened and a huge bulk came through with his head down. His visitor had to bend his trunk far over to clear the transom of the door.

"What do you want?" Johnston asked, expecting to have the arm put on him for a "finnif."

"I want a manager," he was told.

"Any experience?"

"A little."

"Can't use you. Haven't got any time for novices," Johnston replied, and the visitor stooped over again to clear the door on the way out.

That's the way Jimmy Johnston passed up Jess Willard.

Since then Jimmy has been going the rounds looking for any big fellow who looked like he could fight. He has had a lot of them but they didn't do. Now he's got one and he's telling the town about him.

Let Jimmy tell you about him, especially about his distinguished fighting ancestry.

"Joe Sigman, the heavyweight champion of the United States Navy, is back in town and is ready to meet Jim Maloney, Jack Sharkey, King Solomon, Jack Renault, Gene Tunney or Harry Wills. He's after the heavyweight championship," Johnston writes, "and none are barred, black or white. Bring them on."

"He's six feet three, weighs 200 pounds, is 23 years old and comes from Cleveland, N. C. He has just finished four years in the Navy, where he won the heavyweight service title by beating Ted Snyder, the Marine, who was picked as the next champion by Leo Flynn, Jack Kearns, Jack Doyle and other boxing men on the coast."

Sigman apparently comes from fighting stock. He's Jimmy's word for it: "His ancestors date back to the Revolutionary days. One was on the staff of General Washington during the war of 1776. Another was on the staff of General Lee in the Civil War. Another was with Roosevelt in the Spanish-American war and his brother was a captain in the A. E. F. You can see he's a real dyed-in-the-wool American."

With that send-off Sigman ought to get noticed anyway.

1500 BULLSEYES
MADE BY A 17 YEAR SCHOOL BOYSAMUEL MOORE, NEWTONVILLE,
MASS., PERFORMS
FEATFIRES CONTINUOUSLY 7 HOURS,
37 MINUTES ON 50 FOOT
RANGEBy PETER P. CARNEY,
Editor National Sports Syndicate

Several years ago a boy named Locke in Dinuba, Calif., scored 622 bullseyes in succession on a 50 foot range. That created a lot of comment at the time. Then Ulric Vance of Hillsboro, O., (the same town that gave Hughey Fullerton to this world) created some more talk by shooting 1022 successive bulls. Last winter Howard Burks of Fresno, Calif., scored 1095 bulls in succession and was caused to stop because of a fog after about 7 hours of firing. And but a few weeks ago Samuel Moore of Newtonville, Mass., fired 1500 successive bulls in 7 hours and 37 minutes, and stopped shooting because 1500 rounds of ammunition were all that he had expected to shoot.

We certainly have a lot of fine young marksmen in this country—and practically all of them have been developed by the W. J. R. C. The four boys above mentioned all received their training through the W. J. R. C.

I know nothing about the arrangements for the shooting of the first three mentioned boys but Moore's competition was a scheduled affair to try and eclipse all previous records. He practiced for several months before the record breaking feat was attempted. Once he shot 500 bulls in succession. Then he knew if he could hold long enough he could establish a new record. He decided to try for the mark on National Rifle Day. Young Moore gave one of the greatest exhibitions of shooting ever heard of in the United States.

The target he fired at has five bulls on it and he shot at 60 targets. The bull has three circles, A, B and C, the A circle being 3-8 inches in diameter and the entire bull 1 3-8 inches in diameter. He shot 1355 times into the A circle, 132 into the B circle and only 13 times in the C circle. All of his shots in the C circle came in the last 300 fired. After scoring 1200 consecutive bulls Moore shot faster, because he had bettered the record by a good margin, and his last 400 shots were fired in 85 minutes, the last 25 shots in 90 seconds, including the changing of targets and the reloading of the rifle.

Moore is a member of Boy Scout Unit No. 1 of Newtonville, and of Unit No. 2654, W. J. R. C. For his record breaking feat the latter organization presented him with a gold medal.

Nurmi's American Trip
Cost Fifteen Hundred

A recent statement by Fred W. Rubien, secretary of the A. A. U., showed the expenses of Paavo Nurmi's visit to the United States. The statement showed that the Finnish star's expenses, including transportation to and from America, railroad fare in Europe, cost of telegrams and long distance telephone calls, and maintenance at the rate of $7 a day for every day of his visit, amounted to $1,562.50. Under an agreement with the A. A. U. clubs and organizations for which Nurmi ran, they were taxed at the rate of $100, collected by the A. A. U., to defray the expenses of Nurmi's trip. The sum aggregated $4,281.25. The clubs were each charged $31.25, and were given back $68.75 each.

STAR GUNNERS ENTER
GRAND RAPIDS SHOOT

Grand Rapids, Minn., Aug. 10.—Many famous shots will be in Grand Rapids today to attend the thirty-second annual registered shoot held under the auspices of the Itasca Gun club. This is one of the oldest clubs in the northern part of the state and a number of members will be out Monday who helped organize the club 32 years ago and who have not missed a shoot since that time.

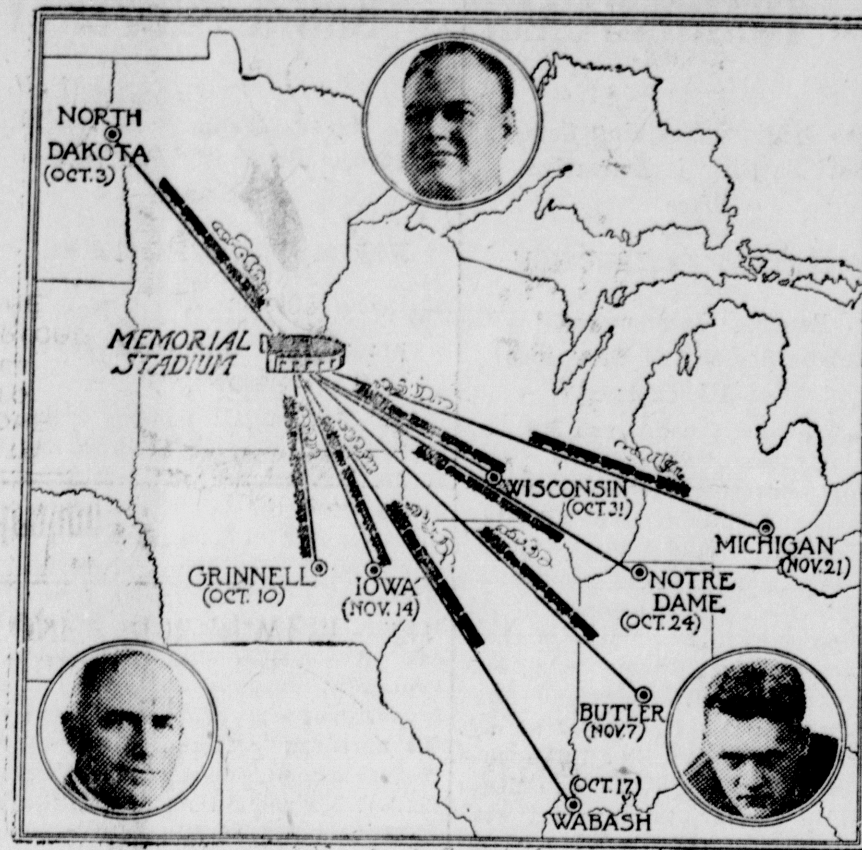

Secretary Jesse Anthony says he has entrants from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Aitkin, Brainerd, Wadena, Crookston, International Falls, Superior, Duluth, Hibbing, Floodwood, Cass Lake and practically all the villages of the county. Last year 75 shooters were on the records and this year it will run over 100.

Youth Catches Heinie
Zimmerman at Second
With Vet's Own Trick

Heinie Zimmerman, who is playing with a semi-pro team in College Point, near New York, singled to right in a recent game with a Bronx team and tried to stretch the hit into a double. The play was close, and the youth at second base, taking a throw from the right fielder with his gloved hand, tagged Zim on the cleats of his left shoe. As he did so he raised Zim's foot off the bag—an old trick but a good one. The astonished Zim looked up at the boy and growled:

"Who taught you that one?"
"You did, old dear," said the boy.
The second baseman was Joe Lonergan, who grew up in the great Zim's neighborhood in the Bronx and who used to run the score board at the Polo Grounds.

SEVEN TEAMS ADVANCE ON STADIUM TO TAKE MINNESOTA FOOTBALL SCALP

Minneapolis, Aug. 10.—Approximately 200 players, 40 coaches, a dozen or so trainers and about 5,000 student and alumni rooters will roll into Minneapolis this fall in the course of seven efforts that will be made to storm Minnesota's home citadel of football in Memorial Stadium. Only a single game, the eighth, that against Michigan on Nov. 21, the closing day of the season, will be played away from home.

The seven journeys will average something like 350 miles each making an aggregate of approximately 5,000 miles that teams will travel to battle the Gophers.

Advance mail orders for seats must be received in Minneapolis two weeks before the dates shown on the diagram, while fans seeking priority advance orders must have their applications in three weeks in advance of the dates shown. Season ticket sales will close Sept. 21 in the mail order section, but these tickets may be bought at the University until Oct. 3, the date of the first game.

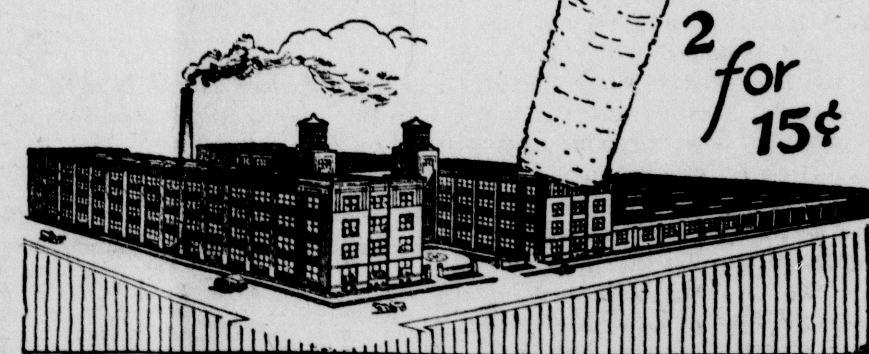

Homecoming, the biggest of the annual football events, will be on Nov. 14, the date of the Iowa game. "Dad's Day" will be celebrated on the day of the Wisconsin game, October 31.

The prevailing football breezes seem to be from the southeast according to the map, with three of the seven tornadoes originating in the state of Indiana. Although several opponents will cross Illinois' to reach Gopher territory, winds from that state will blow neither hot nor cold in Minnesota the coming season. No game scheduled.

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 10.—Like all other pugilistic managers who wouldn't turn down a million dollars, James J. Johnston, better known as "Jimmy, the Boy Bandit," is seeking a youngster to succeed to the heavyweight championship of the world.

Jimmy, as a fighter, a manager and a promoter, knows every corner and cupboard of the boxing game. He is also a champion story-teller and one of the most colorful optimists connected with the business.

He has to be an optimist or he wouldn't have remained in the boxing game with enough hope to convince him that he has a chance to find a heavy-weight champion.

He ordered one champion out of his office years ago, but the next prospect that appears will find his arms open in welcome.

Several years ago Jimmy was sitting in his office staring out the window of the skyscraper on the roofs of the "Roaring Forties."

He was aroused from deep thought when the door opened and a huge bulk came through with his head down. His visitor had to bend his trunk far over to clear the transom of the door.

"What do you want?" Johnston asked, expecting to have the arm put on him for a "finnif."

"I want a manager," he was told.

"Any experience?"

"A little."

"Can't you see. Haven't got any time for novices," Johnston replied, and the visitor stooped over again to clear the door on the way out.

That's the way Jimmy Johnston passed up Jess Willard.

Since then Jimmy has been going the rounds looking for any big fellow who looked like he could fight. He has had a lot of them but they didn't do. Now he's got one and he's telling the town about him.

Let Jimmy tell you about him, especially about his distinguished fighting ancestry.

"Joe Sigman, the heavyweight champion of the United States Navy, is back in town and is ready to meet Jim Maloney, Jack Sharkey, King Solomon, Jack Renault, Gene Tunney or Harry Wills. He's after the heavyweight championship," Johnston writes, "and none are barred, black or white. Bring them on."

"He's six feet three, weighs 209 pounds, is 23 years old and comes from Cleveland, N. C. He has just finished four years in the Navy, where he won the heavyweight service title by beating Ted Snyder, the Marine, who was picked as the next champion by Leo Flynn, Jack Kearns, Jack Doyle and other boxing men on the coast."

Sigman apparently comes from fighting stock. He's Jimmy's word for it: "His ancestors date back to the Revolutionary days. One was on the staff of General Washington during the war of 1776. Another was on the staff of General Lee in the Civil War. Another was with Roosevelt in the Spanish-American war and his brother was a captain in the A. E. F. You can see he's a real dyed-in-the-wool American."

With that send-off Sigman ought to get noticed anyway.

SAMUEL MOORE, NEWTONVILLE,
MASS., PERFORMS
FEAT

37 MINUTES ON 50 FOOT
RANGE

By PETER P. CARNEY,
Editor National Sports Syndicate

Several years ago a boy named Locke in Dinuba, Calif., scored 622 bullseyes in succession on a 50 foot range. That created a lot of comment at the time. Then Urie Vance of Hillsboro, O., (the same town that gave Hughie Fullerton to this world) created some more talk by shooting 1022 successive bulls. Last winter Howard Burks of Fresno, Calif., scored 1095 bulls in succession and was caused to stop because of a fog after about 7 hours of firing. And but a few weeks ago Samuel Moore of Newtonville, Mass., fired 1500 successive bulls in 7 hours and 37 minutes, and stopped shooting because 1500 rounds of ammunition were all that he had expected to shoot.

We certainly have a lot of fine young marksmen in this country—and practically all of them have been developed by the W. J. R. C. The four boys above mentioned all received their training through the W. J. R. C.

I know nothing about the arrangements for the shooting of the first three mentioned boys but Moore's competition was a scheduled affair to try and eclipse all previous records. He practiced for several months before the record breaking feat was attempted. Once he shot 500 bulls in succession. Then he knew if he could hold long enough he could establish a new record. He decided to try for the mark on National Rifle Day. Young Moore gave one of the greatest exhibitions of shooting ever heard of in the United States.

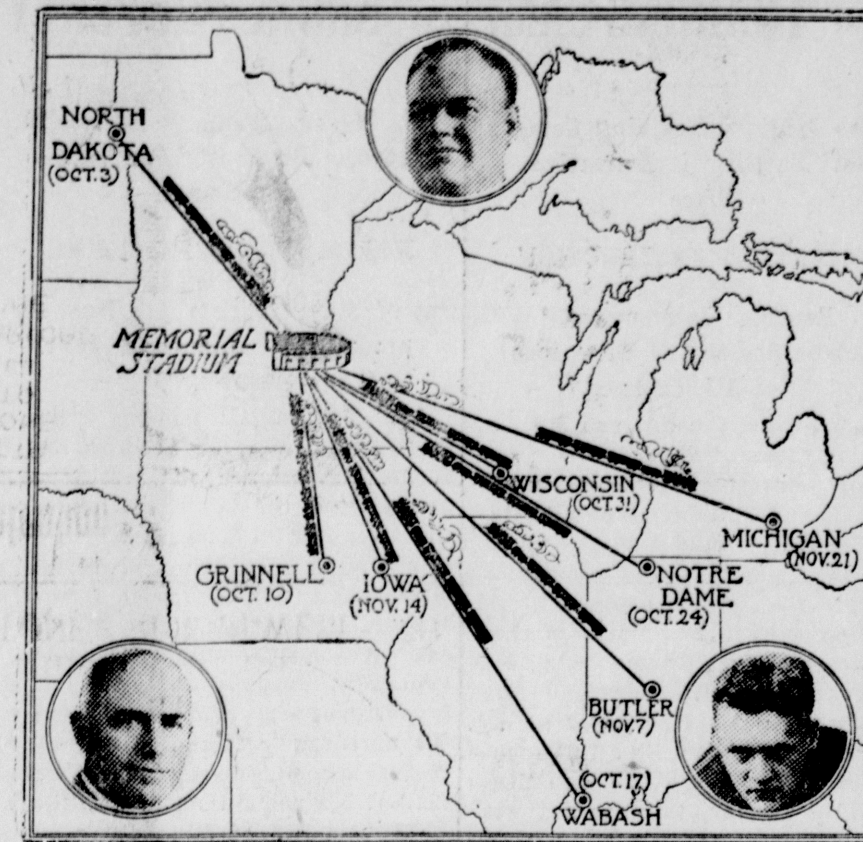

The target he fired at has five bulls on it and he shot at 60 targets. The bull has three circles, A, B and C, the A circle being 3-8 inches in diameter and the entire bull 1 3-8 inches in diameter. He shot 1355 times into the A circle, 132 into the B circle and only 13 times in the C circle. All of his shots in the C circle came in the last 300 fired. After scoring 1200 consecutive bulls Moore shot faster, because he had bettered the record by a good margin, and his last 400 shots were fired in 85 minutes, the last 25 shots in 90 seconds, including the changing of targets and the reloading of the rifle.

Moore is a member of Boy Scout Unit No. 1 of Newtonville, and of Unit No. 2654, W. J. R. C. For his record breaking feat the latter organization presented him with a gold medal.

Nurmi's American Trip Cost Fifteen Hundred

A recent statement by Fred W. Rubien, secretary of the A. A. U., showed the expenses of Paavo Nurmi's visit to the United States. The statement showed that the Finnish star's expenses, including transportation to and from America, railroad fare in Europe, cost of telegrams and long distance telephone calls, and maintenance at the rate of $7 a day for every day of his visit, amounted to $1,562.50. Under an agreement with the A. A. U. clubs and organizations for which Nurmi ran, they were taxed at the rate of $100, collected by the A. A. U., to defray the expenses of Nurmi's trip. The sum aggregated $4,281.25. The clubs were each charged $31.25, and were given back $68.75 each.

SEVEN TEAMS ADVANCE ON STADIUM TO TAKE MINNESOTA FOOTBALL SCALP

Minneapolis, Aug. 10.—Approximately 200 players, 40 coaches, a dozen or so trainers and about 5,000 student and alumni rooters will roll into Minneapolis this fall in the course of seven efforts that will be made to storm Minnesota's home citadel of football in Memorial Stadium. Only a single game, the eighth, that against Michigan on Nov. 21, the closing day of the season, will be played away from home.

The seven journeys will average something like 350 miles each making an aggregate of approximately 5,000 miles that teams will travel to battle the Gophers.

Advance mail orders for seats must be received in Minneapolis two weeks before the dates shown on the diagram, while fans seeking priority advance orders must have their applications in three weeks in advance of the dates shown. Season ticket sales will close Sept. 21 in the mail order section, but these tickets may be bought at the University until Oct. 3, the date of the first game.

Homecoming, the biggest of the annual football events, will be on Nov. 14, the date of the Iowa game. "Dad's Day" will be celebrated on the day of the Wisconsin game, October 31.

The prevailing football breezes seem to be from the southeast according to the map, with three of the seven tornadoes originating in the state of Indiana. Although several opponents will cross Illinois' to reach Gopher territory, winds from that state will blow neither hot nor cold in Minnesota the coming season. No game scheduled.

NEW FEDERAL BUDGET AGAIN REDUCES TAXES

TENTATIVE ONE FRAMED BY BUDGET DIRECTOR

BRUNT OF REDUCTION BORNE BY THE ARMY AND NAVY

AIR SERVICE MAY RECEIVE GEN-EROUS ALLOT-MENT

(By United Press)
Swampscott, Mass., Aug. 10. — Budget Director Lord today presented to President Coolidge a tentative budget for the fiscal year 1927 which starts next July 1st within the $3,080,000,000 mark set by the president as the maximum.

This figure is 20 million dollars less than the appropriation for the present fiscal year. It is understood that the brunt of the reduction will be borne by the army and navy, although the air service is expected to receive generous allotments.

This budget figure if not exceeded by the congressional appropriation next year will make possible a federal tax reduction of at least $300,000,000.

HOARDING CHECKS BUSINESS IN INDIA

Washington, Aug. 10.—All phases of economic life in India are adversely affected by the "century old habit of hoarding," according to the department of commerce, banking, agriculture, manufacturing, public finances and especially foreign trade are all handicapped by the lack of sufficient capital.

"While millions of rupees worth of gold and silver are literally stored in hiding places by the people," the department said, "industries remain almost at a standstill."

"This traditional habit of hoarding keeps the standard of living almost static in India, and at a very low level as compared with the western world and certain areas in the far east."

According to reports reaching the department, great efforts are being made to discourage hoarding and encourage the habit of banking and investment among the people. A number of co-operative societies, with this end in view, have been organized and some progress already has been made.

MILLION DOLLAR LUMBER YARD FIRE IN CHICAGO

(By United Press)
Chicago, Aug. 10.—The last embers of a million dollar lumber yard fire were extinguished early today. The greater part of the city's fire fighting apparatus worked furiously during the night checking the fire before it could spread through the center of the manufacturing district.

The yard was owned by the Paris Lumber company. Explosion of a 16,000 gallon gasoline tank an hour after the fire started spread the flames hundreds of feet in all directions.

A fire department and police investigation failed to determine the origin of the spectacular blaze.

SYMPATHETIC RECEPTION AC-CORDED BY SECRETARY OF

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 10.—Belgium did her duty when she entered the world war and will continue to do her duty in the payment of her just obligations, Baron de Carter de Marchienne, the Belgian ambassador, today informed the American debt commission at the opening of negotiations for funding of the $480,000,000 Belgian war credit to the United States.

The Belgian promise of fulfillment was followed by an address by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in which he assured the Belgians that "with the feeling America has for you and the appreciation we have of your difficulties, your position will be the most sympathetic and friendly granted by our commission."

"The question before us is of narrow compass," Mellon said, "Politics, local or international, are not involved. We sit here, reasonable men, around a table."

GIANTS BURIED ALIVE BENEATH TOKYO FORT

(By United Press)
Tokio, Aug. 10.—The gruesome myth of the "human pillar" has been verified by unearthing of skeletons in the grounds of the Imperial Palace in Tokio.

Workmen repairing the ancient citadel in the Nijubashi were horrified to uncover the skeletons of a number of giant men standing guard, 12 feet below the surface of the earth, to protect the fortification.

The skeletons were taken as verification of the tradition of the "human pillar," a superstition of ancient Nippon. It was a custom, according to mythology, to sacrifice human beings upon beginning erection of fortresses. Living bodies of the strongest men of the nation were buried in the belief their strength would be imparted to the building.

News of the discovery was kept secret by the government but leaked out when workmen who had found them reported the tale. The skeletons were turned over to the Tokio Imperial University for examination and burial.

HIGHER RATES ON GRAIN SHIPMENTS ARE SUSPENDED

PENDING INVESTIGATION BY IN-TERSTATE COMMERCE COM-MISSION

THE RATES WERE TO HAVE BE-COME EFFECTIVE
TODAY

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 10.—The new increased rates of grain shipments from Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Wisconsin and Illinois points were ordered suspended pending investigation by the Interstate Commerce Commission today. The rates were to have become effective today.

The suspension will continue until November 29th unless an adjustment has been made before then or extension granted for further inquiry.

The action followed protests made to the commission by grain associations of the northwest against the new schedule which had been filed by carriers.

The roads which filed increases were Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul; Rock Island, Great Northern, Minneapolis & St. Louis and the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha.

The increases were asked on transportation of grain, grain products, millet and products from states named to all points.

The commission said it appeared the rates claimed are injurious to the rights and interests of the public.

A number of Dakota and Minnesota organizations and farmers and grain dealers, as well as commercial clubs, petitioned the commission some weeks ago for the suspension order asking for a hearing. The new schedule proposed covered new individual and joint rates and charges, as well as regulations and practices affecting grain transportation.

SONS

(By United Press)
Moohead, Aug. 10.—Burial plans—fitting for a father and not a wife slayer—are being prepared today by four sons of Martinus Grefsrud whose mangled and partly decomposed body was found at Hawley, near here, Sunday.

More than a score of searchers, including the four boys, scoured the woods for the past week in search of Grefsrud, after he had shot and killed Kjerstine Grefsrud, his wife.

Johanna, the crippled daughter, crawled several yards to the roadside and beat on a tin pan for two hours before attracting attention after the tragedy.

Grefsrud, believed demented, had placed a gun in his mouth, shooting away part of his head. The gun was still clasped in his hand when the body was discovered.

MAJ. ARNOLD'S FINDINGS WILL BE GIVEN AT THE CON-VENTION

BUREAU

Thief River Falls, Aug. 10.—With a bitter fight in store on the election of a national executive committeeman, delegates to the 7th annual convention of the Minnesota department American Legion gathered here today.

F. D. McCarthy of St. Paul is now national executive committeeman. The election of his successor will find Stafford King, former state adjutant and Commander Edwin Lindell pitted against each other with a possibility that Henry Young of Willmar also will be a candidate.

Sessions of the convention were unable to open until noon due to the late arrival of the Soo Line train from Minneapolis bearing 5th district delegates.

Construction of the Fort Snelling veterans' hospital for which plans have been under consideration some time will start early in the fall, Commander Lindell reported at the meeting of the executive committee Sunday morning. The commander read a letter from General Frank Hines, head of the veterans' bureau giving the information.

The executive committee meeting otherwise was a tame affair, routine business receiving attention without the usual display of divergent opinions.

St. Paul, Aug. 10.—The long suppressed Maj. Arnold report on the veterans bureau of the ninth district is expected to be made public at the department convention of the American Legion at Thief River Falls.

Although this report has been treated as confidential by Ramsey county Legionnaires, it is known that it recommended the resignation of C. E. Hibbard, district director of the bureau.

The Maj. Arnold report and investigation was made several months ago at the personal request of Gen. Frank T. Hines, director general of the bureau at Washington.

But few of its recommendations have been adopted by the bureau, according to unofficial advice.

With many proposals and resolutions being drawn by members of the Ramsey county delegation to the convention, it is expected that the complete report will be aired on the convention floor. What the resolutions will be is not publicly known, but it is expected that the bureau will be criticized in its method of handling the disabled veterans of this district.

Delegates to the department convention today, Tuesday and Wednesday left Sunday at 8:30 p. m. from the Union depot on a special train of the Great Northern. More than 200 delegates, members of the Legion Auxiliary and prominent Legionnaires were on the train.

The drum and bugle corps of Post No. 8 lead the Ramsey county delegation.

5,000 DELEGATES IN SESSION TODAY

Thief River Falls, Aug. 10.—Forgetting the bitterness and strife that called them together eight years ago, more than 5,000 delegates of the 520 Minnesota posts of the American Legion met in annual convention here today.

Insect Cannibals

In the struggle for existence many creatures are driven to live at immense heights.

The climbers of Everest saw a herd of wild sheep sitting on a glacier surrounded by pinnacles of ice. They found bees, moths, and butterflies at 21,000 feet, and the last traces of permanent animal existence far above the Himalayan snow-line and 4,000 feet above the last vegetable growth. These were small spiders.

They live in islands of broken rock surrounded by snow and ice. There were no signs of vegetation or living creatures near them, and for food they ate one another.

Wingless grasshoppers were found living at a height of 18,000 feet.

DE MOLAY DANCE AT GRANDVIEW

General Public is Cordially Invited to be Present

Roosevelt Chapter, Order of De Molay, is preparing to give a dance at Grand View Lodge on Wednesday evening, August 19, the music to be furnished by the Breezy Point Collegian Aces.

This is the third dance in the series given by the local chapter this summer. The two preceding ones have been highly successful and the order has gained quite a reputation as entertainers therefrom. The dance on next Wednesday will be the last one of the season, and the general public is invited to be present.

Dances at the Grand View hotel have been most popular this summer, the pavilion being one of the cool air places in this locality where dancing could be enjoyed on warm evenings. Its easy access to the city and neighboring resorts has been a factor in drawing crowds.

The Breezy Point Orchestra is held in high favor wherever it has played for dances this season. The Collegian Aces are excellent musicians and furnish very lively music, only the most popular airs being used. To advertise this orchestra is to guarantee the success of dance at which the Aces play.

Dancers are urged to keep Wednesday evening, August 19, open for the De Molay dance, and are promised one of the most enjoyable events of its kind this season.

Asserts That Poverty Is Punished as Crime

It is a common cant phrase among the comfortable classes that poverty is not a crime. Like most cant phrases, it is a lie. Poverty is a crime, or the world would not punish it so severely. Any man who has been poor—I do not mean "hard up" or short of money, but actually poor, and born among the poor, as I was—has something of the resentment felt by a man who has been in prison. For he has suffered as much as any man who commits a serious crime against society. But with the difference that he does not know what offense he has committed. I received the first punishment early in life, and it was some time before I could discover that my offense was poverty and humble birth. There is no relief for that suffering. So long as boys born among the poor dare to have brains and fine feelings and a desire to escape from mean streets, so long they shall be made to pay the price of their daring.—Thomas Burke, in Hearst's International-Cosmopolitan.

Application for Patent

A first government fee of $20 has to be paid on the filing of an application for a United States patent as a part of the application, and if the application is allowed a final government fee of $20 has to be paid in order to secure the grant of a patent. No further fees are required, and the patent runs its term of 17 years without anything more being required of the patentee. In most foreign countries, however, in addition to the government fees which by law have to be paid with the application, and in order to secure the grant of the patent, renewal fees or annuities have to be paid regularly, and the laws require the invention that is covered by the patent to be actually worked, as by being manufactured, sold, etc., in the country of the patent.

EIGHT BILLIONS A YEAR FOR NON-ESSENTIALS

"Why worry about your auto taxes for good roads to cut car running costs?" queries American Highways in the current issue, itemizing estimates indicating that the people of the United States spend more than eight billion dollars a year for non-essentials.

Quoting from a statement from the U. S. Treasury Department, with estimates on a few items by the Radio Corporation, Department of Commerce and American Outdoor Life exposition, the journal presents expenditures for non-essentials in this country in 1924 as follows:

Tobacco	$1,847,000,000
Beverages	820,000,000
Theatres, etc.	934,000,000
Candy	689,000,000
Jewelry	453,000,000
Firearms	67,000,000
Musical Instruments	440,000,000
Sporting Goods	431,000,000
Perfumes, etc.	261,000,000
Chewing Gum	87,000,000
Toilet Soaps	76,000,000
Furs	176,000,000
Radio	150,000,000
Touring Abroad	600,000,000
Touring at Home	1,000,000,000

1924 total $8,031,000,000

Beverages include only the non-alcoholic and the items of toilet soaps and furs are listed at half since some are essentials.

"Just six months allowance of the above fund would improve the entire Federal Aid Highway system of the United States and thus allow you to drive from the county seat of any county to the county seat of any other county in any other state and keep on a paved road," says American Highways.

LADIES' BAND HAS NEW UNIFORMS

Are Distinctive in Color And Design, on Lines Suggested by Band

ARE TO BE USED NEXT WEEK

Will Give Their First Band Concert at Lum Park on Tuesday Evening, August 18

The Brainerd Ladies band has ordered its uniforms, which are expected to arrive this week. These uniforms are distinctive in color and design, and were created upon lines suggested by the band. Nothing like them have been designed before. The band refuses to give out any particulars concerning these uniforms, which will be used in public for the first time next week.

The ladies will give their first band concert at Lum park on next Tuesday evening, August 18th at which time the new uniforms will be initiated. To assist in defraying the expense of these costumes, a collection will be taken during the concert.

Much interest has been taken in this band, which is making rapid progress under the direction of Mrs. Norman Ziebell, and it is expected that a large crowd will greet the ladies upon their appearance at Lum park.

During the latter part of next week the Ladies band will play for the Elks convention, and will be the only ladies' musical organization to be heard during this big state meet, in fact it will prove a novelty in the history of the meetings of the state association.

The band is now in communication with the management of both the Crow Wing county and Pine River fairs and is planning to appear at both of these exhibitions, as well as in concerts at Brainerd and throughout the county.

FOE OF 20th CENTURY HUSTLE MAKES IDLING HIS TRADE THOUGH HE IS ALWAYS BUSY IN HIS WORKSHOP

"Take your time and be cool," says John Lee Baldwin of Babylon, Long Island. Baldwin, 50 years old, is a professional idler, in fact makes idling his trade, his life work. Yet he is always busy doing something with his head or his hands. He has a workshop but "never worked and never will." Everything he does is for pastime only. He doesn't have to labor because he has enough to support his wife and two sons. He says he starring role in "The Reckless Age," his new feature, to be seen last time tonight at the Lyceum Theatre, he heaved a sigh of relief. "No auto racing in it—and no fights," he proclaimed.

But he soon found his mistake. For he had to stage the most thrilling fight in his career, the hard-to-hand battle in a newspaper office which marks one of the big "punch" scenes in the new serio-comedy, an adaptation of Earl Derr Biggers' Saturday Evening Post story, "Love Insurance."

A UNIVERSAL JEWEL
Woes of Shop Girls in Big Screen Play

A shop girl who has never had a good time in her young life, is Virginia Valli's latest role. The popular Universal star, heads a well-known cast of favorites with Norman Kerry in this production, "The Price of Pleasure," a Universal-Jewel, which has its first local showing at the Lyceum Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

"The Price of Pleasure" was written by Elizabeth Holding and Marion Orth, who are among the most famous of present day writers for screen production. Universal bought the story because of its particular fitness for Miss Valli and Kerry, and is said to have exercised special care in the selection of the supporting cast.

Sex Differences

Those paragraphers are great observers. One says: "At a party a man usually eats something he shouldn't, and a woman generally says something she shouldn't." Another remarks: "A man is always wanting someone to tell him how handsome he looks; a woman will just stand before a glass and see for herself."

WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

May Have Come Upon Lost Mormon Trails

Curious old rock trails recently discovered have caused the California State Historical society to launch an extended research into the routes of early day highways in the belief that the evidences found are those of the lost Mormon trails which more than a half century ago connected Utah with the Pacific southwest, according to the New York World.

More than 60 years ago San Bernardino, 22 miles south of Lake Arrowhead, was a Mormon village, planned after Salt Lake City, and to the southwest oxcart caravans creaked their picturesque way along the monotonous journey.

What is now known as Lake Arrowhead was at that time a rugged, mountainous section with rushing streams. The lost trails are believed to have traversed this section. With the coming of settlers, the mountain streams were stemmed and Little Bear lake came into existence. Later a huge earth-filled dam 1,300 feet wide at the base, with a capacity of 775 acres of water, created Lake Arrowhead.

In the virgin forest of oak, cedar and fir surrounding the present lake old roads wind through the trees to the water's edge, where they disappear to emerge again on the opposite side of the lake.

The historical research workers believe these trails once traversed the former mountain slopes and merged with the old Arrowhead trail in the desert, near Victorville and Hesperia.

Holidays in Brazil Come Thick and Fast

The man who covets numerous holidays should move to Brazil. According to a work issued by a trust company of New York, "Bank and Public Holidays Throughout the World," Brazil enjoys eleven public holidays, and augments this allowance by many unofficial holidays which are generally observed. Starting well off the mark on January 1, with New Year's day there is an interval for work until the 6th, which is Epiphany. Follows a period of hard slogging until the 20th, when the state of Rio downs tools. Another state follows suit on the 25th, and still another on the 27th, which is the last holiday in January. Most months are like that in Brazil. In fact one or two months—such as April—are still more bountifully provided with holidays.

Welcome Stranger

A distinguished westerner, subject to severe attacks of indigestion, was traveling with his wife. Late one night in a pullman, he was seized with an attack. His wife slipped on a kimono and hurried to the washroom to prepare a mustard plaster. She rushed back hastily threw aside the curtains, opened his pajamas and applied the plaster securely before she discovered it wasn't her husband, but a strange man. She fled horrified to the right berth and told her husband, who went into such fits of laughter that his indigestion was cured. If they tried to take off the plaster they would awaken the stranger. To avoid a difficult explanation they decided just to leave it on.
At 6 a. m. there was a terrific roar from the stranger's berth. "Porter," he howled, "who the h—l put a porcupine in my bed?"—Everybody's Magazine.

Origin of the Clock

The first clock, according to Harry C. Brearly, was produced about 900 A. D. by Gerbert, the monk, who was the most accomplished scholar of the age. At that time the monks were the only people of learning to whom marking off of a day's time was significant. They used bells to mark off the various periods of the day, much as some churches do today. The sounding of the ancient bells was depended upon by all the people and that is why the word "clock" was taken from the French word "cloche," which means "bell." At the close of the Thirteenth century a clock was set up in St. Paul's cathedral in London, and in 1581 Galileo, an Italian youth, discovered the principle of the pendulum.

Corinne Griffith Here in "Declassé"

Those who see Corinne Griffith in "Declassé," which will be shown at the New Park tonight and Tuesday, will agree that she has done the best work of her career in this screen adaptation of the famous stage play by Zoe Akins.

The enthusiasm which marked the initial showing of this First National picture was unusual. Robert Virginia, who directed the production, deserves special mention for the excellence of his work.

The story deals with the unhappy marriage of Lady Helen Haden, played by Miss Griffith, and her love for an American, Ned Thayer, who has allowed himself to fall into the clutches of an adventuress. His reformation and her future happiness form the basis of an exciting and entertaining story.

"Declassé," as a stage play, was made famous by Ethel Barrymore.

THE NEW WAY TO IRON Fine Clothes

Even if you send your clothes to the wet wash laundry, the clothes still must be ironed. The problem of ironing clothes is just as important as the washing, but lack of space has made it difficult for women to take advantage of electric ironing machines. The new Thor Folding Ironer solves this problem.

The most expert hand laundress cannot excel the work done by the new Thor Folding Ironer. Table linen is given a beautiful finish. The roll, 31 inches long, takes tablecloths, sheets and other wide pieces doubled, very easily.

The Thor irons EVERYTHING—collars, cuffs, neckbands, ruffles, flounces, etc., as well as flat work—men's trousers pressed perfectly.

Thor Folding Electric Ironer

The Thor Folding Ironer can be heated and operated by electricity from any electric convenience outlet already in your home; or heated by gas, if desired.

Two levers, one at each end of the roll, automatically control every operation. Just a touch of the finger on either one of these levers, starts and stops the shoe—as easy as pressing the electric light button.

Thor quality and service is appreciated by a million users.

The new Thor Folding Ironer is almost human in the work it will do for you. And best of all, it is so designed that when the ironing's done you can fold the Thor into the vertical position and roll it into an unused corner of the kitchen or closet where it is out of the way until you need it again.

IN his address at the American Retailers association meeting at St. Louis, T. K. Kelly of Minneapolis, told how to wage successful war on the bell ringer. This bell ringer, says Mr. Kelly, is selling thousands upon thousands of dollars of merchandise in each community in the country, that should be sold through the established retail store.

The bell ringer, continued Mr. Kelly, is a growing competition in the retail store, because the housewife is ignorant of the economics of distribution and she believes the unsupported claim that he can sell better and cheaper than the retail stores.

And the weapon to use against him? Good advertising, especially newspaper advertising, is the greatest weapon of the retail merchant in eliminating this house-to-house canvasser. Mr. Kelly maintains it has become the habit of the American people to do practically all their shopping through the newspaper and the newspapers in America today have too great an economic force to need any recommendation.

The crying need of the public today, said the speaker, is better educated clerks; more complete stocks and real appreciation on the part of the retailers and their associates of their customers. The Austin, Texas, Chamber of Commerce waged a campaign against bell ringers by distributing a door card, warning canvassers they were not desired, which, it was reported, were placed on 90 per cent of all front doors in the city.

The Anoka Herald recently evolved a card to be tacked to one's door giving notice to "outside" agents and peddlers that the occupants of such home bought only of Anoka merchants. THE DISPATCH has printed similar cards and many have requested these cards as a sort of self protection.

It should be remembered that no criticism is leveled against the soliciting of local merchants, who may put on sales campaigns, or the solicitation of farmers who wish to dispose of garden and other produce. The criticism is leveled at the out of town agent and canvasser, whose success in his pursuit takes away legitimate business from an established business man in Brainerd. The business man pays taxes, supports the civic activities and helps to build up the town. The out-of-town canvasser is here today and at the next town next day and works solely to make his commission.

THE COUNTRY EDITOR

THE country editor is often the butt of jokes and sometimes stands exposed to the world like a damaged flivver. Man was tinkering under the car and came out when he saw a big bus approaching. "Know anything about flivvers?" he queried of the bus man. "Nope," said the latter, "all I know is a few jokes."

Here is a joke on the country editor which is so old that it has whiskers. A country editor, having worked hard for thirty years, retired with a $50,000 capital. He explained as follows: "I attribute my ability to retire with $50,000 to the fact that I worked very hard and saved every cent—and to the death of an uncle who left me $49,999.50."

This joke just came to the attention of Arthur Brisbane and the widely known editorial writer syndicated these comments:

"Ten thousand country editors could testify that there's more truth than humor in that anecdote. The most useful, underpaid and earnest body of men in the nation are the editors of country newspapers."

Every newspaper man knows this. And so do the catalog houses. The latter send no flood of catalogs to a community which supports its home newspaper and whose business men make use of the paper's advertising columns and use copy which gives prices and other up-to-date store news.

ALIEN HANDS WIN HONORS

ALIEN hands often win honors in various fields and oust the native contestants.

For instance, at an international piping contest held recently in Paris it was judged that M. Jousin de Comenase of Czechoslovakia made the best squeals come out of his bagpipe. He faced a large field of venerable Scotchmen and piped them down, and it certainly looked as though the Campbell were not coming that day.

In the ski line of endeavor, a red-headed, little Irishman, Barney Riley, of Coleraine, has achieved considerable prominence and his flaming mop, as he speeds down the course, looks like a torch in Scandinavia.

FEMININE STYLES

THE vogue in feminine styles is to discard the superfluous. Keen men observers are worried as to what will be designated the final limit. In the march of events there has been a sort of evolution and among the erstwhile manufacturers to fall by the wayside are these:

The man who made hairpins and lost his job when bobbed hair came.

The man who made corsets and who sees his customers dwindle.

The man who made petticoats and now finds few are used.

THE Staples World philosophical department gives this editorial thought. "Man is a peculiar animal. He can see a pretty ankle three blocks off while driving his car on a cloudy noon day on a busy street, but can't see a locomotive as big as a house with a string of eighty-three box cars a half block off while driving on a deserted country road."

THE church is not made up of people who are better than the rest but of those who are trying to be better than they are. It is this common struggle after higher ideals that inspires the weakest member and fires the strongest, says the Bemidji Daily Pioneer.

LEGION OPENS CONVENTION AT THIEF RIVER FALLS

naires assembled for the first business session today to further the work of the organization, place welfare work on a firmer foundation and receive reports of various department heads, together with recommendations for outlining future activity.

With several rough spots in the Legion work due to be ironed out, a stormy session is expected tomorrow when the delegates receive reports from committees investigating activities of the United States Veterans' Bureau.

It is known that one of the reports, although treated confidentially for the past several weeks, contains recommendations for the resignation of C. E. Hibbard, district director of the bureau.

Election of a successor to Department Commander Edwin L. Lindell and a department adjutant to succeed Stafford King, resigned, is sharing interest on the program with the receiving of reports, the parading of bands and drum corps from all sections of the state, and general social features.

Proposals for drastic changes in district organization and procedure will be placed before the convention. The new plan provides each congressional district shall elect a state executive committeeman to serve as chairman of the district. This move has been recommended as an economy measure by Luther Young, Minneapolis.

Thief River Falls welcomed the first of the delegates yesterday with each train bringing scores of others to the meeting. Colors of each post have been prominently displayed throughout the business session, with delegations parading through the streets, accompanied by their bands and drum corps, at short intervals.

PLEDGES SELVES TO REHABILITATION

Thief River Falls, Aug. 10.—Pledging themselves to further Americanization, rehabilitation and welfare work members of the American Legion Auxiliary swung into the opening session of the three-day convention here.

Mayor E. S. Arneson welcomed the delegates to the city today before the general routine business was rushed through to completion. Mrs. Eugene Fencion, Devils Lake, N. D., regional vice-president, urged the delegates to "consider their work just started with the bulk of the hardships yet to be cleared away."

Thirty seconds of silence in honor of the boys who "went west," featured the morning session. Caucusing by districts for convention committee, joining members of the American Legion in a "talk fest" and receiving of reports from department heads will complete the session.

SEEK DEPORTATION OF ALIENS CONVICTED OF FELONY

Indianapolis, Aug. 10.—Passage of legislation for the deportation of all aliens convicted of felony was urged in a resolution adopted here today by the Americanization committee of the American Legion.

The resolution calls upon the national convention to adopt a similar resolution, calling upon congress to adopt legislation for the deportation of alien law violators.

No Dry Cell for Him

Sim Updike was taken into court the other day as the result of having a slight mixup with a clerk in the Cash Food store. It seems they were arguing over a baseball game and the clerk hit Sim with a 10-cent bag of salt he happened to have in his hand. Sim countered with a B-battery he was taking back to a radio store on account of its being run down. The judge said this was the clearest case of assault and battery that had ever come before him, and that both parties seemed equally guilty. Sim pleaded however, that as the battery was disassembled he should also be discharged and the judge saw the logic of it and let him off.

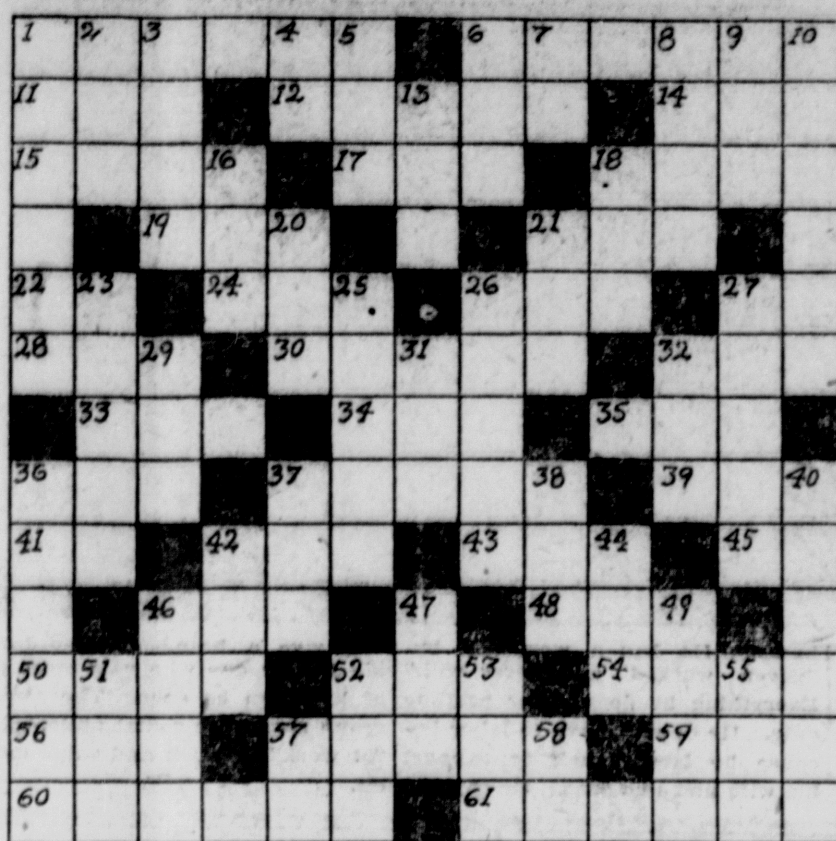

The Law's Delay

The longest lawsuit I have ever heard of is one that was started in the Ninth century—and it is still going on! It crops up periodically in the republic of Andorra, in the Pyrenees, and relates to some property referred to in a contract drawn up over 1,000 years ago. The laws of Andorra are in a somewhat undecided state, and there is no immediate prospect of the case being settled. The lawsuit is thus about a thousand years old.—Tit-Bits.

True Charity

A man should fear when he enjoys only the good he does publicly. Is it not publicity rather than charity, which he loves? Is it not vanity, rather than benevolence, that gives such charities?—Henry Ward Beecher.

KNUTSON ADOPTED BY CHIPPEWA TRIBE

Deer River, Minn., Aug. 10.—Amidst primeval pines and in the presence of 3,000 persons, 1,000 of whom were Chippewa Indians, Congressman Harold Knutson was adopted into the Chippewa tribe at ceremonies conducted eight miles west of here at 2 p. m. Saturday.

Before the largest gathering of Chippewas in years, Congressman Knutson was vested with an honorary chieftainship and was given the Indian name Gwe-Weezianee, after old Chief Hole-in-the-Day. Decision to adopt the congressman was taken by the Chippewa council at Bena, July 23.

A note of discord was stressed at the meeting Saturday when Fond du Lac Indians from Superior and Duluth, led by John Arten, Dave Smith and Mrs. Jennie Beaulieu, vigorously protested against the adoption, claiming there was no precedence for such action and that the decision was railroaded through the council at Bena.

Despite an explanation by Ed Wilson, leader of the White Oaks Indians, who were among the prime factors in moving the decision to adopt Congressman Knutson, the protestations were continued and a formal demand was made for a council vote. The demand, however, was ignored.

Among those who witnessed the ceremonies of adoption were Congressman Walter Newton, Minneapolis; Larson, Duluth; Carrs, Proctor

and William Spry, former governor of Utah.

Despite the protests of the Fond du Lac Indians, which was made just before the induction ceremonies, those familiar with the council procedure maintained that the adoption was wholly regular. Ed Wilson, the White Oaks leader, explained that the title was purely an honorary one. The council of the Chippewas met again Sunday preliminary to the close of the celebration today.

Famous Church Council

The council of Trent was summoned by Pope Pius III in 1545. The ecumenical council lasted nearly twenty years, as it was frequently interrupted by wars and other causes. Its object was reform in the Catholic church and a repudiation of the doctrines of Luther and other Protestant reformers.

"Let George Do It"

This phrase is said to have originated in France as "Laissez faire a Georges" in the fifteenth century and at first had a satirical reference to the many activities of Cardinal Georges d'Amboise, prime minister to Louis XII. Later it became common slang, was translated into English and was adopted in America without any comprehension of its original meaning.

A New Type of Service

Employees of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), who have taken advantage of the Company's Stock Purchasing Plan in 1925, will get their stock at $62.00 per share, regardless of what the price may be during the remainder of the year.

This is the average market price for a six months' period ending March 31, 1925.

In reality, Standard Oil employees get their stock at $41.33 per share, as the Company adds, as a gift, 50c to every dollar invested by the employee.

Regarding the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) Stock Purchasing Plan, Mr. O. A. Mather, in the Chicago Tribune, says:

"Behind this lies a story of relations to employees almost unique in American industry."

"Four years ago the Standard Oil directors translated into action their belief that employees would be more efficient and loyal if they were stockholders and also that they should be permitted to share the profits. While this was not a new idea, the plan worked out by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) was somewhat of a departure from custom."

"The directors announced a five year stock acquisition plan whereby employees might subscribe for stock to the extent of one-fifth of their annual salaries. This constituted a partial payment plan. But as an additional incentive and reward the directors stated that for every dollar put in by an employee the company would add 50 cents. As the price of the stock each year is based on the average market price for a preceding period, the company, in effect, is selling stock to its employees at two-thirds of its market value."

The result of making the employee ownership of stock attractive has been to promote harmony, encourage industrious efficiency and to harbor contentment among the employees; in short, to instill and nourish the spirit of service, which reacts to the distinct benefit of the patrons of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in the ten Middle Western states where the Company is straining every nerve and fibre to serve thirty million people with petroleum products of high quality, when and where they need them.

GERMANY ASKS FREEDOM TO ARM HER MEN

WILL BE HER PRICE TO ASSENT TO EUROPEAN SECURITY
PACT

UNITED PRESS FOREIGN EXPERT

By J. W. T. MASON
(Written for the United Press)

Termination of allied control over German armaments is being demanded by the Berlin government as the price of Germany's consent to a European security pact. This question, the gravest facing the world today, must eventually be brought forth for settlement; and when it is settled in Germany's favor, the making of Germany's war of revenge will begin.

Europe cannot forever remain as guardians of the trans-Rhine territory. Some time in the future, the allied commission regulating Germany's military power will have to be disabled. Germany must be given her complete freedom if for no other reason than because of the impossibility of holding 65,000,000 Germans in their present form of servitude. If France could permanently keep Germany disarmed, the European question would become easy of settlement; but France has not the capacity to do this, and the other major powers of Europe will not stand by France in perpetuity.

Germany Raises Issue

Since the ending of the world war, the allies have refrained from considering the fact that sooner or later Germany must regain full control over her own armaments. All allied diplomacy, under French influence, has been based on the assumption that the Germans can be held in subjection. But, Germany has now raised the issue, as it was certain to be raised, and it will remain as a red reality in the minds of Europe's statesmen until a permanent settlement is reached.

Once Germany is allowed to do as she likes in reorganizing and reequipping her army, the balance of power in continental Europe will undergo a change overnight. Poland and Czechoslovakia, allies of France under present conditions with Germany bound and helpless, will have to reconsider their international positions when the German war machine is reconstructed. The world war showed how effectively and irresistibly the German army could act against east European opponents on even numerical terms. Poland and Czechoslovakia would be at Germany's mercy with the latter's military efficiency restored.

Poland in Hopeless Position

Poland, especially, would be in an utterly hopeless position if Germany were to form an offensive alliance with Russia; for then the Poles would be crushed between two foes. The Czechoslovaks realize this situation better than the Poles, for the statesmen of Czechoslovakia are among the cleverest in Europe. Nevertheless, Czechoslovakia cannot save herself simply by leaving France and making friends with Germany. There are great numbers of Germans held in subjection as the minority race in Czechoslovakia, and Germany will seek to compel the Czechs to grant them equal rights once Germany military might is restored.

France will try to postpone the release of Germany from military control as long as possible counting on Polish and Czech help. But, France is herself in a grave quandary because Germany has linked her release disarmament with the negotiations for a joint security pact. No security agreement is worth anything to France that does not bear the signature of Great Britain. The present British government, under the Francophile influence of Foreign Minister Austen Chamberlain, wants to support France. The people of Great Britain generally desire a security agreement, seeing in this the only hope of reviving trade. But, the British have a large fund of common sense in international matters, and they cannot see any advantage in a security agreement which does not include Germany.

Now, however, the Germans have made the security negotiations take on a farcical character by insisting that in exchange for helping to keep the peace in Europe Germany shall be allowed to reorganize her war machine. The blow is a serious one for the British government, which has been basing its negotiations, without quite realizing it, on the bland assumption that Germany will remain unarmed throughout the indefinite future.

France cannot obtain an agreement with Great Britain guaranteeing peace, if Germany is to be allowed to arm for

Mrs. Moran says she dresses only to please her husband, and succeeding in that she pleases herself.

another war; while if the Germans are not given this right, they threaten to reject the security pact themselves, thereby making the British reluctant to give an advance pledge to fight for France under all future circumstances. Thus, the initiative in European diplomacy is gradually moving into German hands. The Baldwin government in Great Britain and the succession of ministries which passes in review in Paris are gradually being backed into an impossible corner by the very logic of trans-Atlantic events.

Mere "olive and palm" soaps are not like it

MANY millions of women know that Palmolive Soap has brought them new beauty, new attractiveness. The reason lies in olive and palm oils, but not in any ordinary blend.

Olive and palm oils have for ages held supreme place as cosmetics. But no one dreamed what they could do until Palmolive Soap was created. This was a unique production, based on 60 years of soap study. The result of modern scientific study of the skin.

Palmolive has become, on this account, the leading toilet soap of the world. Now it is made in five countries, to meet the world-wide demand. It is made in France, the home of fine cosmetics, because French women find it gives them the results they seek. Old "olive and palm" soaps—even real castile—have been largely replaced by Palmolive.

Now, after all this, let no one convince you that any "olive and palm" soap is much like it. Some are very ordinary indeed, with artificial color. Some are even super-fatted.

They will cleanse, of course. But ages have proved that they never do what Palmolive does for complexions.

Note the unnatural "too green" color of Palmolive imitators. What does that suggest? Men don't paint nature to improve it.

Palmolive is not the only great complexion soap. We know of two that fairly compare, but they cost 25 cents. Palmolive costs 10 cents, due to enormous production.

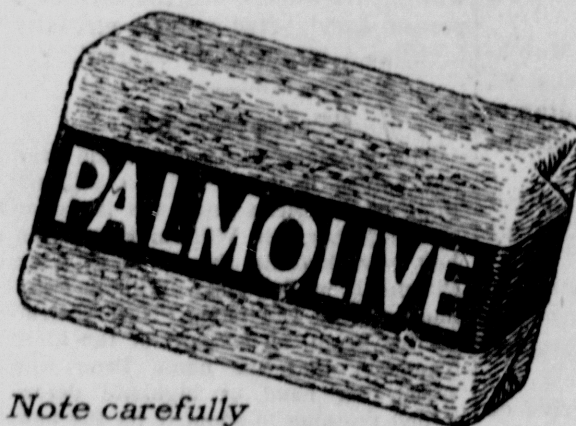

If you seek a healthful skin, there is only that choice — a costly soap or Palmolive. Mere so-called "olive and palm" soaps cannot bring it. Let no one mislead you on this point, for any selfish purpose.

Wash, launder, cleanse with any soap you wish. But when beauty is at stake — take care. Use Palmolive, nature's formula to "Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion."

For Germs

Soaps to "destroy" germs should be used only by advice of a physician. All soaps "remove" germs to a certain degree. No soap safe for toilet use will "remove" germs any better than Palmolive.

The real difference in soaps is in their action on your skin. Some are too harsh, others crudely blended. Palmolive Soap is a unique creation, a blend of rare cosmetic oils; a soap made for one purpose only, to foster good complexions. Don't expect Palmolive complexion results from any strong "medicated" soap, from any "jack-of-all-trades" soap, from any soap claiming alike for fabric washing and the skin.

Note carefully
the name and wrapper.

NORWAY'S SONS RANK HIGH IN YANKEE SPORTS

Practically every American yacht that has defended the international title against Sir Thomas Lipton of Ireland has been manned by Norwegian crews. In the race between the Resolute, American defender, and the challenger, Shamrock, in 1920, the entire crew of the Resolute was made up of Norwegians. The master of the American defender was Captain Chris Christensen of Brooklyn, a Norwegian. The racing master of the New York Yacht Club since 1874 is Louis Blix from Sandefjord, Norway.

In the famous dog races of Canada, Norwegian drivers have often come out victorious. Albert Fink, a Norwegian, was the first to organize the Nome Kennel Club in Alaska in 1908. At Nome the all-Alaska sweepstakes were established as a great annual event, and Leonard Seppela, a Norwegian, has often been returned a winner.

And so on down the line. There is hardly a sport in America today that doesn't find a Norwegian among the leaders.

MURCHISON DENIES PADDING ACCOUNTS

New York, Aug. 10.—Loren Murchison, sprinter, who with Charles W. Paddock made a world tour ending in England, returned yesterday on the Mauretania.

He denied reports from Germany that he and Paddock had run up exorbitant expense accounts.

Murchison declared that he would file a complete statement of all their expenses with the Amateur Athletic union within 10 days.

Paddock is expected to arrive on the Arabic next week.

New Golf Rule

New York, Aug. 10. — The golf rules committee announced the following rule, in agreement with the Royal and Ancient Club of St. Andrews:

"When a ball lodges in a hazard and the player does not play it out on the first stroke, the player may smooth with his club the heel marks made by his stance, without penalty, provided the player does nothing to improve the lie of the ball or assist the player in his subsequent play at the hole.

N. P. CUTS FREIGHT ON POSTS AND POLES

The Northern Pacific Railway company, through its agricultural representative, John W. Haw, has just announced that beginning August 10, a 40 per cent cut in the freight rates on rough poles and posts will go into effect, affecting shipments of these products from northern Minnesota to other points in Minnesota and North Dakota. The above reductions are made especially at this time in order that farmers may plan their winter's cutting of wood products for farmers in this territory for building sheds, etc. These rates will be effective until June 30, 1926.

Farmers having quantities of posts and poles for sale should send their listing to the County Agent's office where this will be made and communicated to clubs in other sections of the state.

Huggins Buys Infielders to Strengthen Yankees

Miller Huggins is going to have a lot of infielders to look over in the spring. The club last week purchased Leo Durocher, 19-year-old shortstop, from Hartford of the Eastern league, for delivery September 20. In getting the youngster the Yankees stepped in ahead of the Chicago Cubs who were supposed to have bid $10,000 for the kid. Durocher is leading the shortstops of the league in fielding and is fast and a good hitter.

Motor cars are thicker this summer, than ever before, on Minnesota highways. But so are pedestrians, especially up in the lake regions where the short hike is growing in popularity. Automobiles and hikers do not mix well. A sprinkling of pedestrians along the road ahead slows up the car and puts a strain on the driver's nerves. A procession of honking motors keeps the pedestrian on the jump, chokes his lungs with dust and exhaust fumes, and spoils his hike in other ways. And frequently, despite reasonable care on the part of both driver and walker, somebody is run over.

The experienced spurs the motor highway. He strikes off across country, or swings along hidden lanes. But, unfortunately, most of those who walk are not experienced hikers. Possibly they fear the by-way the thicket and the swamp. At any rate, they stick to the main road, with its hum of traffic.

For such folk there is a practice that minimizes the danger inherent in a mixing of plodding pedestrians and whizzing automobiles. Let them invariably walk on the left side of the road. It is the safest way. The journeyer afoot thus always faces approaching traffic. He has a better chance to watch and avoid motors. The driver has a better chance to sight the pedestrian. At night this precaution is doubly essential, for a headlight will pick out a face, or a white shirt waist when the back of a person darkly clad will be virtually invisible.—Minneapolis Journal.

The province of Pennsylvania was not named in honor of the William Penn of American fame, but in honor of his father, Sir William Penn, who had been high in the favor of King Charles II of England. William Penn had selected the name "New Wales" for his grant, on account of the hills. The fact that the name Penn was Welsh for head or highland determined the king to adopt it for the new territory, and its reported beauty added the title "Sylvania."

The car that put the War in Warren

Jim Warren bought a car—the "Gingerbread Six."

Never heard of it before, but he happened to be walking along Automobile Row and during a lapse moment his foot slipped—he stepped inside.

"Nifty boat," said the salesman.

"Not bad," said Jim, as paint and doo-dabs got in their hypnotic work.

"But why isn't it advertised?" asked Jim.

"Don't need to advertise a job like that," was the forearmed reply. Sounded logical. But—

Six months later Jim had a collection of bolts and grease-cups and broken springs and disjointed steering mechanism and a motor that almost ran.

"Never again!" said Jim. "The car that's little known and never advertised hasn't much responsibility; little to live up to. Before I buy another car—or another anything—I'm going to get the facts. I'm going to read the advertisements about automobiles—or whatever I'm buying."

Advertisements are an invaluable guide to intelligent buying. Read them regularly.

"ALFALFA DAY" ANNUAL EVENT

To be Held at Experimental Field at Crow Wing on Saturday, August 15

DIRECTION OF UNIVERSITY

Public of 3 Counties Cordially Invited to Attend Demonstration

"Alfalfa Day" an annual event for the county, will be held at the experimental field at Crow Wing on Saturday, August 15th.

The experimental field is under the supervision of the University of Minnesota, under whose direction the Alfalfa Day is to be staged.

The public generally is invited to be present on Saturday, for it is believed that a great many, even though they may not be farmers, will be interested in the farming of sandy lands of Crow Wing, Cass and Morrison counties.

The University, in its bulletin advertising the Alfalfa Day, states that some sandy soils are far superior to others, but often on the same farm and even in the same field, the part that is poorest for corn, potatoes clover and small grains, is the best for the raising of alfalfa, and this crop is one of the best that can be grown for feeding dairy cattle.

Some sandy soils have naturally plenty of lime; on others where alfalfa can be grown without any application, liming is profitable. On still others, liming is indispensable and in some scattered instances, there is little hope of profitable returns from alfalfa even with liming.
In general, the character of the subsoil for a depth of 10 feet or more and the distance from the watertable, are more important than the character of the surface soil.

The program for Saturday starts at 10 o'clock in the morning, and the time until noon will be used in the inspection of plots on the experimental field. Coffee, lunch and refreshments will be on sale near the field for those who care for them.

A short program will be given at 1:30 o'clock, consisting of addresses explaining the purpose and character of the work being carried on by the University on alfalfa, soils and marl at Crow Wing.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon a tour of inspection will be made of the entire experimental field.

The Crow Wing experimental field is of special interest when it is considered that nearly 500 plots of alfalfa, sweet clover, mammoth clover medium red clover and alsike are being grown there. Some are planted without marl, and some with the use of this valuable land sweetener; others with ground limestone, limestone screenings, potash, phosphate, gypsum and stable manure at different ratios and different combinations.

There are plots of alfalfa in the experimental field that were seeded in 1922, and in each succeeding year including 1925, and clovers seeded during the past two years. Alfalfa that was completely winter-killed when cut too late last fall, and other plots that stood the winter in excellent shape when properly handled are shown at the field and their care explained.

The experimental field is now reached by leaving Brainerd on the Thirteenth street paving, and turning west at the Echo Stock Farm corner. Trunk Highway No. 27 cannot be traveled, because of construction work going on there, but an excellent detour is provided to Crow Wing by taking the above route out of the city.

The division of soils, of the University, extends an invitation to all to visit the experimental farm on Saturday, and it is expected that a large number of farmers and other interested, will take advantage of this invitation.

Cash Taken From Cash Register and From a Cinnamon
Can

The Sixth Street Cafe, owned by Frank Bidwell, was entered early Saturday morning, and about $141 in cash taken, it was reported to the police.

The theft was the work of someone familiar with the restaurant and with the methods used there, for the door was opened with a key, and cash taken from the cash register and also from a cinnamon can, which the proprietor used for hiding large sums of money which he was compelled to keep in the cafe over night.

The robbery occurred between 1:30 o'clock and 5 o'clock Saturday morning. The cafe was closed at the former hour, and opened at 5 o'clock, when the theft was discovered.

No clue to the robbery was left in the cafe, and no one has as yet been apprehended.

Daily Routine Interspersed With Athletic Sports And Diversions
of All Kinds

Training Camp at Fort Snelling, sent
by representatives from Brainerd,
Frank Payne, Filmore Rand and Hal-
lett Clarkson, would lead one to believe that many of the prospective
members who lost enthusiasm at the last moment will be envious of those who are enjoying Uncle Sam's vacation to his future military officers.

Four meals a day, competent and
earnest instructions in all branches
of civil and military life, constitute
the daily routine, interspersed with athletic sports and diversion of all kinds, such as swimming daily at Nokomis Beach, a military truck taking the boys to and from the beautiful lake, Wednesday and Saturday afternoons and evenings the boys have
to themselves, to do as they please,
either in St. Paul or in Minneapolis,
where the citizens seem to bend every effort to entertain those who wear
the red, white and blue hat cord, the distinctive mark of the citizen soldier in the making.

Guests are welcome at all times
during the day, whether they are relatives of the boys or not, and a trip to the cities during the month
of August should not be called complete without visiting the citizens
military training camp. The Brainerd boys will be especially glad to receive visits from local people. The boys can be found in Companies "B"

BODY OF UNKNOWN IS FOUND IN LAKE

The body of an unknown man
about 40, fair complexioned, blue eyes, brown hair and weighing around 180 lbs., was found lodged on
a sand bar in Mille Lacs lake about
a block out from the shore near the home of Harvey Butts in Wealth-
wood Wednesday afternoon by Mrs.
Butts and Mrs. O. E. Runquist of
Clinton, Iowa, a member of the Wealthwood summer colony. From the condition of the body deputy coroner E. E. Seavey said the man had evidently been drowned three weeks. Nothing was found to establish identity. An "Admiral" 15-
jeweled Swiss watch in a silver case
and attached to a flat link gold chain
was in the clothes. The case bore
the number 235576, and a date on
the link of the chain was Feb. 1922.
A belt buckle was engraved with the letter "G." The body was brought into Aitkin and buried in Lakeview cemetery.—Aitkin Independent Age.

NORTH WOODS CHARMING

Out of State Tourists Are Most Appreciative of Minnesota Lake
Country

The Minneapolis Sunday Tribune
carries this interview accorded by S.
S. Staring, Minneapolis realtor who has platted the Whiteley lands on
the river east of Lum park:

Tracts of lake shore property in Minnesota's north woods, formerly almost inaccessible, can now be easily reached by automobile, an advantage which is bringing increasing numbers of new property owners to
the northern section of the state, S.
S. Staring, president of the Staring
Co., of Minneapolis, said Saturday.

"The charm of Minnesota's great north woods," Mr. Staring said, "is becoming more widely known, not only in our own state, but also in adjacent states which are less fortunate and can boast of no such beautiful vacation lands. There are thousands of acres still in the natural state, untouched and unspoiled by human activity.

"Our observations indicate that
our neighbors who come here as tourists year after year are even more appreciative of Minnesota's wonderful north lake country than people
of Minnesota. Many of these folks
drive hundreds of miles to take advantage of the attractions of the endless number of ideal vacation spots
and a large percentage of these tourists are purchasing permanent summer homes.

"Here they find a cabin spot exactly suited to their own tastes as to an ideal setting, be it lake shore or an isolated place somewhere among the towering pines. We find there is a keen demand for cabin sites which give privacy and quiet so much desired by the busy family of today.

"The miles and miles of paved and
graveled highways throughout the state are bringing this great north woods almost to our very door. Today one may reach this interesting lake country in just a few hours of driving by automobile from Minneapolis. The roads are excellent."

Ain't Nature Grand?

Don't ever criticize the weather,
'cause you can't improve on it. Have you ever stopped to think what wonderful weather conditions we require
and get, here in Minnesota to properly develop and mature the great diversity of crops we plant? We need
a wet spring to properly soak the ground with plenty of moisture; then
we want the rains to stop until we get our seedling done; then we want
a warm shower to give it the proper start; but we want the weather to remain cool until the grain is properly rooted and sprouted. We want
wet weather to start our pastures,
dry weather for our small grain
crops and hay crops. A little later
we put in our corn and then we need
some moisture to give it a proper start. It has got to warm up to make corn "knee high by the fourth of July," but at the same time it has
to stay cool or our grain will not fill properly. And thus it goes all through the year even down to hoping we have a dry fall so that the threshing and other farm work can be gotten out of the way and still get enough moisture to make easy plow-
ing. Then we want enough severely
cold weather to kill destructive insects and foul weeds, plenty of snow to cover the fall seeding and clover
and then again an early spring to get a good start on the seeding. And the wonder of it all is that we here
in Minnesota generally get just about
the right sort of weather conditions
every year, even though we don't always think so at the time.—Immigration Bulletin.

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 10.—Like all other pugilistic managers who wouldn't turn down a million dollars, James J. Johnston, better known as "Jimmy, the Boy Bandit," is seeking a youngster to succeed to the heavyweight championship of the world.

Jimmy, as a fighter, a manager and a promoter, knows every corner and cupboard of the boxing game. He is also a champion story-teller and one of the most colorful optimists connected with the business.

He has to be an optimist or he wouldn't have remained in the boxing game with enough hope to convince him that he has a chance to find a heavyweight champion.

He ordered one champion out of his office years ago, but the next prospect that appears will find his arms open in welcome.

Several years ago Jimmy was sitting in his office staring out the window of the skyscraper on the roofs of the "Roaring Forties."

He was aroused from deep thought when the door opened and a huge bulk came through with his head down. His visitor had to bend his trunk far over to clear the transom of the door.

"What do you want?" Johnston asked, expecting to have the arm put on him for a "finnif."

"I want a manager," he was told.

"Any experience?"

"A little."

"Can't use you. Haven't got any time for novices," Johnston replied, and the visitor stooped over again to clear the door on the way out.

That's the way Jimmy Johnston passed up Jess Willard.

Since then Jimmy has been going the rounds looking for any big fellow who looked like he could fight. He has had a lot of them but they didn't do. Now he's got one and he's telling the town about him.

Let Jimmy tell you about him, especially about his distinguished fighting ancestry.

"Joe Sigman, the heavyweight champion of the United States Navy, is back in town and is ready to meet Jim Maloney, Jack Sharkey, King Solomon, Jack Renault, Gene Tunney or Harry Wills. He's after the heavyweight championship," Johnston writes, "and none are barred, black or white. Bring them on."

"He's six feet three, weighs 200 pounds, is 23 years old and comes from Cleveland, N. C. He has just finished four years in the Navy, where he won the heavyweight service title by beating Ted Snyder, the Marine, who was picked as the next champion by Leo Flynn, Jack Kearns, Jack Doyle and other boxing men on the coast."

Sigman apparently comes from fighting stock. He's Jimmy's word for it: "His ancestors date back to the Revolutionary days. One was on the staff of General Washington during the war of 1776. Another was on the staff of General Lee in the Civil War. Another was with Roosevelt in the Spanish-American war and his brother was a captain in the A. E. F. You can see he's a real dyed-in-the-wool American."

With that send-off Sigman ought to get noticed anyway.

SAMUEL MOORE, NEWTONVILLE,
FEAT

RANGE

By PETER P. CARNEY,
Editor National Sports Syndicate

Several years ago a boy named Locke in Dinuba, Calif., scored 622 bullseyes in succession on a 50 foot range. That created a lot of comment at the time. Then Urie Vance of Hillsboro, O., (the same town that gave Hughey Fullerton to this world) created some more talk by shooting 1022 successive bulls. Last winter Howard Burks of Fresno, Calif., scored 1095 bulls in succession and was caused to stop because of a fog after about 7 hours of firing. And but a few weeks ago Samuel Moore of Newtonville, Mass., fired 1500 successive bulls in 7 hours and 37 minutes, and stopped shooting because 1500 rounds of ammunition were all that he had expected to shoot.

We certainly have a lot of fine young marksmen in this country—and practically all of them have been developed by the W. J. R. C. The four boys above mentioned all received their training through the W. J. R. C.

I know nothing about the arrangements for the shooting of the first three mentioned boys but Moore's competition was a scheduled affair to try and eclipse all previous records. He practiced for several months before the record breaking feat was attempted. Once he shot 500 bulls in succession. Then he knew if he could hold long enough he could establish a new record. He decided to try for the mark on National Rifle Day. Young Moore gave one of the greatest exhibitions of shooting ever heard of in the United States.

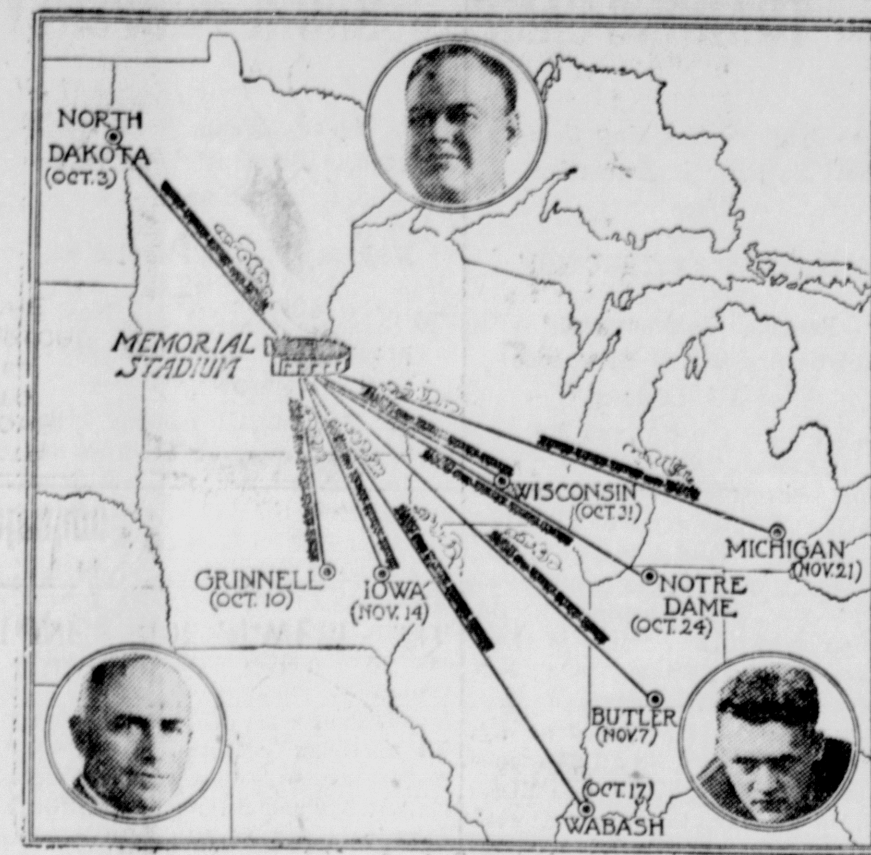

The target he fired at has five bulls on it and he shot at 60 targets. The bull has three circles, A, B and C, the A circle being 3-8 inches in diameter and the entire bull 1-3-8 inches in diameter. He shot 1355 times into the A circle, 132 into the B circle and only 13 times in the C circle. All of his shots in the C circle came in the last 300 fired. After scoring 1200 consecutive bulls Moore shot faster, because he had bettered the record by a good margin, and his last 400 shots were fired in 85 minutes, the last 25 shots in 90 seconds, including the changing of targets and the reloading of the rifle.

Nurmi's American Trip Cost Fifteen Hundred

A recent statement by Fred W. Rubien, secretary of the A. A. U., showed the expenses of Paavo Nurmi's visit to the United States. The statement showed that the Finnish star's expenses, including transportation to and from America, railroad fare in Europe, cost of telegrams and long distance telephone calls, and maintenance at the rate of $7 a day for every day of his visit, amounted to $1,562.50. Under an agreement with the A. A. U. clubs and organizations for which Nurmi ran, they were taxed at the rate of $100, collected by the A. A. U., to defray the expenses of Nurmi's trip. The sum aggregated $4,281.25. The clubs were each charged $31.25, and were given back $68.75 each.

Minneapolis, Aug. 10.—Approximately 200 players, 40 coaches, a dozen or so trainers and about 5,000 student and alumni rooters will roll into Minneapolis this fall in the course of seven efforts that will be made to storm Minnesota's home citadel of football in Memorial Stadium. Only a single game, the eighth, that against Michigan on Nov. 21, the closing day of the season, will be played away from home.

The seven journeys will average something like 350 miles each making an aggregate of approximately 5,000 miles that teams will travel to battle The Gophers.

Advance mail orders for seats must be received in Minneapolis two weeks before the dates shown on the diagram, while fans seeking priority advance orders must have their applications in three weeks in advance of the dates shown. Season ticket sales will close Sept. 21 in the mail order section, but these tickets may be bought at the University until Oct. 3, the date of the first game.

Homecoming, the biggest of the annual football events, will be on Nov. 14, the date of the Iowa game. "Dad's Day" will be celebrated on the day of the Wisconsin game, October 31.

The prevailing football breeze seem to be from the southeast according to the map, with three of the seven tornadoes originating in the state of Indiana. Although several opponents will cross Illinois to reach Gopher territory, winds from that state will blow neither hot nor cold in Minnesota the coming season. No game scheduled.
